The War Today

By GUY RHOADES

STRATEGY DEBATE

Progress of the new Balkan war is obscured for the moment by broken communications, but the tasks of the Allies seem clear enough if they are to reap important victories from this phase.

First, it would appear, Britain must clean up the east African and Libyan situations so as to release more men for the fights in Greece, Albania and Yugoslavia.

Greece and Yugoslavia, it appears, might do well to fight a defensive war against Germany and her Balkan satellites while they clean the Italians out of Albania.

Then Britain, Greece and Yugoslavia would be free to turn their full attention northward, seeking to force an invasion of the Axis territory through its back door.

INVASION OF GERMANY?

This seems roughly to be the strategy advocated by military experts in London, although some of them add that the assault through the Balkans should be accompanied by a fierce blow in the north to be struck by Britain's counter-invasion forces who have been training for many months without having a chance for real action.

Those who advocate simultaneous assaults in the north and south apparently count on the wide dispersal of Nazi forces to give the Allies an advantage. German troops certainly must be spread pretty thin by this time, but there remains the question of what use the German masters may make of Bulgarian, Hungarian and Rumanian forces which, it would seem, are theirs to command.

BADLY BATTERED

There is no disposition to take seriously the Italian contention that she also is at war with Yugoslavia as she already has suffered a severe beating.

Meanwhile fragmentary reports said Greek troops had withstood violent new assaults today in the second day of Hitler's invasion of the Aegean Kingdom; while in Yugoslavia, target of a twin Nazi thrust, the Germans claimed an advance of 18 to 25 miles.

Direction of the German advance into Yugoslavia was not given. Nazi troops massed on the Rumanian frontier had been within 50 miles striking distance of Belgrade, the Yugoslav capital.

FIGHT IN PASSES

Athens dispatches said Greek infantrymen were holding fast amid furious attacks in narrow Macedonian mountain passes littered with German dead.

The Royal Air Force was in action on the Greek-Bulgarian frontier, shooting down five Messerschmitts. British troops based in Greece presumably were moving northward to join the Greek army.

Dispatches from Berne, Switzerland, quoted the Yugoslav radio as saying Yugoslav artillery had opened fire along the Albanian frontier, preparing for an attack on Italian-held Albania.

The Germans said Belgrade had been subjected to a fourth heavy bombing attack during the night and left aflame.

ADDIS ABABA

With the loss of Addis Ababa, the Italian occupation of Ethiopia appears virtually ended.

Complete loss of the African empire should prove a staggering blow to Italian morale, for much of it was established with great fanfare within the last few years. Should such an event be followed by collapse of the Italian army in Albania the position of Mussolini's regime would be far from enviable.

'Chutist Executed By Italians

ROME (AP)—An Italian announcement today asserted one of the parachutists landed by Britain in southern Italy in February was shot in the back by a firing squad at dawn yesterday as a traitor after he had been identified as an Italian citizen.

His name was given as Fortunato Picchio, 44, of Charminghano, near Florence. The announcement disclosed parachutists had "carried out acts of sabotage."

Jugoslavs Arrest Nazis

NEW YORK (AP)—A German radio announcement heard today by the National Broadcasting Company claimed all prominent Germans in Yugoslavia were arrested by Yugoslav officials shortly before dawn Sunday.

Final Bulletins

R.A.F. Bombs Sofia

LONDON (CP)—German troop concentrations at Sofia, Bulgarian capital, were heavily bombed by the Royal Air Force last night and hits also were scored on the main railway station, yards, junctions and warehouses, said a British communiqué issued tonight.

A large factory also was hit, many explosions were heard and a number of fires, large and small, were started.

Motor transport shops were among the objectives, the communiqué added, and after one blast "trucks were seen to be hurled into the air."

"After carrying out their bombing attack, the aircraft dived and machine-gunned objectives and motor transport on roads in the Struma Valley," the communiqué said. "This valley is one of the invasion routes into Greece."

"Considerable damage was caused," the communiqué concluded. "All our aircraft engaged in the raid returned safely to their base."

No Bombings

LONDON (AP)—The government reported tonight not a bomb was dropped on British soil during the daylight hours, though "a few single enemy aircraft have flown near our coasts" and two were shot down.

More Ham, Bacon

OTTAWA (AP)—Great Britain will take 28,000 more pounds of ham and hams from Canada than the amount called for in the bacon agreement made last fall, Agriculture Minister Gardner announced in the House of Commons late today.

Blast Kills 26

SINGAPORE (AP)—Twenty-six men were killed and 19 injured in the explosion which sank the Admiralty mooring vessel Buffalo in this harbor Saturday, British authorities announced.

Eight of the dead were British naval officers including a commander and a lieutenant-commander. The others were Asiatic seamen and dockyard employees.

The Buffalo fouled a mine when searching for the wreckage of a Royal Air Force plane which had crashed into Singapore harbor the night before.

SENT DOWN

TORONTO (CP)—Navy Minister Angus L. Macdonald said today a Canadian armed merchant cruiser had intercepted two German ships, the Hermonthis and the Muenchen, in South American waters and the enemy vessels had been fired and scuttled by their own crews.

He made the disclosure in an address to the Canadian Club of Toronto, but did not name the ships. Later he confirmed a dispatch from Lima, Peru, in which the Hermonthis, a 4,833-ton merchantman, and the Muenchen, a vessel of 5,162 tons, were reported to have been scuttled when intercepted by the Canadian auxiliary cruiser Prince Henry five days ago.

ANZAC FORCES ON LINE IN GREECE

SYDNEY (CP)—Navy Minister W. M. Hughes today declared the Anglo-Australian forces now in Greece were ferried across the Mediterranean together with their supplies without loss of a ship or a man.

He said the achievement showed the Mediterranean is a British, not a Roman, sea.

Arthur Fadden, acting Prime Minister, declared today "all Australians are stirred to know the Australian Imperial Force is taking an important part in the defence of the Balkans."

His declaration followed the London announcement Australian and New Zealand troops had been landed in Greece.

Jugoslavs, of whom there are 2,000 in Australia, went to their consulate offering to enlist and the Greek consul-general said many Greeks were joining the Australian forces.

Minister Quits Berlin

Soviet Planes Chased

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Three Soviet Russian planes which passed north of Gotland today were chased away by a Swedish neutrality patrol. It was announced tonight. Gotland is a Swedish island in the Baltic between Sweden and Finland, and about 150 miles north of the German coast.

British at Massawa

CAIRO (AP)—The British assault troops and their Free French comrades-in-arms are in contact with the outer defences of Eritrea's Red Sea port, Massawa, military sources reported tonight.

(See earlier East Africa stories on pages 2 and 3.)

Deaths in Sofia

SOFIA (AP)—The Bulgarian army command announced today that several persons were killed last night when "foreign planes" bombed Sofia. The announcement said 20 explosive and incendiary bombs were dropped on several buildings and claimed a school was hit.

Ford Labor Elections

WASHINGTON (AP)—The labor board today ordered elections held within 45 days to give employees at Ford Motor Company plants in Dearborn and Detroit, Mich., an opportunity to select collective bargaining agents.

Canadians' Part

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King told the House of Commons today disposition of troops was a matter for the high command when he was questioned regarding Canada's part in the Yugoslav and Greek campaigns. Opposition Leader Hanson had asked if Canadian troops were aiding the Yugoslavs and Greeks against Germany.

Strike Deadlock

CALGARY (CP)—Despite a telegram from the Dominion Minister of Labor stating that a mine strike at Coleman, Alta., was illegal, 800 employees of two companies who ceased work March 31 over a contract dispute remained idle today.

Russia Worries Japs

LONDON (CP)—The Japanese newspaper Hochi complained the tripartite pact does not offer Japan sufficient guarantees against Soviet Russia.

"We cannot blindly chant hymns to the three-power pact while the Soviet Union still threatens the rear of Japan," the newspaper said in an article quoted by the British Broadcasting Corporation tonight.

"It is unreasonable," the newspaper continued, "that Japan should be constantly menaced by the Soviet Union so that her advance northward is being threatened, while Germany—another signatory to the pact—has concluded a nonaggression pact and an economic agreement with Russia."

MUST GET OUT OF U.S.—Expected to leave Washington this week is Admiral Alberto Lais, above, naval attaché of the Italian embassy, whose recall was demanded by the U.S. government last week because he had been implicated in the sabotaging of Italian ships at U.S. ports.

Nazis Held Up in Balkans, Blitzkrieg Tactics Fail

BERNE (AP)—Advices reaching here tonight said German forces had not captured any strategic points at the end of the second day of the Nazi smashes on a 750-mile front into Greece and Yugoslavia.

The Nazis' heaviest blows apparently were their dive-bomber raids on cities, railway centres, airports and bridges.

On the Albanian front the Allies carried the expanded war to Italy.

With tough Serb and Greek resistance reported all along the rugged, mountain front, Nazi spokesmen were warning the people that the "same miracles of the German army as in the French blitzkrieg should not necessarily be expected since the geography of Yugoslavia and Greece is such as to enable even poorly-equipped hostile forces to hold up superior Germans temporarily."

Greek Line Holds, Lose 1 Fort

The Greeks declared they were holding all along the new Struma valley line except at one point where they lost a fort yesterday, and the Yugoslav army appeared still to be falling back from the north to more defensible mountain positions.

Germany claimed her army already had penetrated 18 to 25 miles into Yugoslavia and claimed great damage had been done to transport and communications by the air force, but acknowledged the going was hard across northern and eastern Yugoslavia and down Greece's Struma valley.

The Greeks and Yugoslavs appeared to be exacting every advantage from the terrain. There was scant detail on actual engagements.

The Ljubljana, Yugoslavia, artillery had opened fire along the Albanian front in opening a drive against Fascist forces already hard-pressed by Greeks in that Adriatic nation.

Pincers Move Against Italians

The artillery preparations apparently marked the beginning of a pincers movement aimed at quick elimination of the Italians in Albania.

Air warfare spread over southeastern Europe. An air raid alarm sounded today in Budapest, capital of Hungary.

(In Cairo it was announced officially the Royal Air Force had bombed "military objectives" at Sofia, the Bulgarian capital, last night.)

Rumania, Bulgaria Protest Bombings

The Swiss telegraphic agency quoted reports from the Rumanian and Bulgarian news agency today as saying both nations had "no protest" against the bombings.

The Hungarian new agency, the Swiss agency said, reported that a state of alarm had been declared in Hungary by the Minister of National Defence and that blackouts and other air raid precautions would be enforced.

The Bulgarian agency, the Swiss report said, declared: "No Bulgarian troops are participating in the German-Yugoslav fight. Bulgaria expected this to be appreciated by the Belgrade government, but instead Yugoslav air forces attacked open towns and the peaceful Bulgarian population, not German objectives."

A communiqué of the Rumanian agency, quoted by the Swiss, said three persons were killed and three injured in Yugoslav air raids yesterday at Dorsova, Arad and Timosara. The communiqué said the Rumanian government "had not engaged in any way in the hostilities."

Britain Breaks With Hungary

(In London Reuter's diplomatic correspondent reported the British government had decided to withdraw its diplomatic mission from Hungary. The decision was reached, according to the correspondent, because Hungary has become a "base for operations against the Allies.")

As the air warfare spread, Belgrade—self-declared undefended city—was not spared. Nazi bomber pilots boasted they had the Yugoslav capital aflame after three raids yesterday when the war spread with full force to the Balkan front. Italian planes joined in the assault, apparently concentrating on Yugoslav port cities on the Adriatic Sea.

Belgrade Hit In 3 Raids

Communications were meagre but the dispatches and broadcast announcements which did filter through gave this picture of the campaign.

Belgrade, which the Yugoslav government was believed to have left for a safer temporary capital in the southern Yugoslav mountains, was hard hit from raids morning, afternoon and night, the German propaganda agency claimed.

Elsewhere, the Germans claimed, their air force shot down 33 planes yesterday and destroyed 48 others on the ground, with a loss of four German planes. Air-dromes, bridges, a troop train and a communication centre northeast of the Croat provincial capital of Zagreb were claimed bombed.

The German agency said Italian planes co-operated by attacking objectives in southern Yugoslavia. (Some reports identified the port cities of Split and Mostar as among the Italian targets.)

Germans Try Several Routes

The Yugoslav account of the action between Yugoslavs and Germans was unavailable because of cut communications.

(Reports from Turkey said 12

6, the start of the new fiscal year.

By new sacrifices, Sir Kingsley said, "certainly the whole world will see still further tangible evidence of our firm resolve to leave nothing undone to achieve victory whatever the cost."

Avoid Dangers Of Inflation

Sir Kingsley said the primary object of his proposals "is to make a considerable cut in purchasing power in wartime and avoid the ever-present dangers of inflation."

He gave these examples of how compulsory savings will work: "A single man with 45s a week paid no income tax last year. He will now pay 2s a week (after allowances), the whole of which will be treated as post-war credit."

"A married man with two children and an earned income of £250 a year last year paid £5 8s 4d and will pay £24 7s 6d, but of the increase of approximately £19 he will get back £17 6s 8d after the war."

Sir Kingsley announced he is putting industry under the compulsory savings scheme also. He said he would continue the present 100 per cent excess profits tax in effect, but with the proviso that at the end of the war 20 per cent will be refunded "to assist reconstruction."

Big Commitments Under Lend-Lease

The Chancellor called the budget estimate of £4,207,000,000 "domestic expenditure" because it did not take into account material to come from the United States under the Lend-Lease Bill—supplies which before the end of the fiscal year "will be far beyond the figure of £5,000,000,000 which I have seen mentioned in various quarters." The estimate also did not include payment to be made to the United States under existing orders.

Sir Kingsley said that total estimated revenue on the present basis of taxation was £1,636,000,

will get back £17 6s 8d after the war."

Pattullo Back Highway Judged On Military Need

Premier Pattullo arrived back in Victoria today from the east a few days earlier than expected, after attending meetings of the Canadian and American commissions on the British Columbia-Alaska Highway in Washington, D.C.

The Premier flew from Toronto yesterday morning by plane instead of coming by train, so that he could clean up details of government business here before the Easter holiday. His secretary, Ben Hethey, is following by train.

The Premier said he thought his attendance at the highway meeting, as representing the Canadian province most concerned, had been very helpful.

He would not express an opinion on whether or not the highway project will proceed immediately.

He noted that the duty of the Canadian commission is purely to report on the feasibility of building the highway, not to recommend for or against it as a matter of policy.

When the commission has made its report he said he assumed the federal government will consider the project on its relative military value to the war effort, since all major expenditure now is geared to the war.

He said another road project of importance to the defence system was completion of the highway between Terrace and Prince Rupert.

While the main purpose of the Premier's trip was to attend the Washington conference, he stopped off in Ottawa on the return, met British Columbia members of Parliament and had a chat with Finance Minister Ilsley. He had no announcements to make as a result of these discussions, however.

Balkan Communiques:

R.A.F. Downs 5 M.E.109's in Greece

ATHENS (AP)—The Royal Air Force in Greece issued this communique Monday:

"A small formation of Hurricane fighters in the Rupel Pass area of Bulgaria yesterday encountered a large formation of Messerschmitt 109's. In the ensuing combat, five enemy aircraft definitely were shot down and a number of others severely damaged. None of our aircraft was damaged.

"A formation of R.A.F. bombers carried out a successful raid on military objectives at Berthel (Albania).

"A single enemy aircraft carrying out reconnaissance in the Athens area was shot down in flames.

"From all operations all our aircraft returned safely."

FIERY FIGHTING

The Greek high command said in a communique Sunday night: "Strong German forces equipped with the most modern means and supported by tanks, abundant heavy artillery and numerous aircraft, have attacked suddenly and repeatedly since this morning our positions, which are defended by only very small Greek forces.

"Throughout the day the fiercest fighting went on in main zones along the Bulgarian border, particularly in the region of Bell and the Struma valley.

"The small forces of Greek aviation which could be spared from the Italian front helped with self-sacrifice the struggle of our troops.

"Our forts, in spite of violent artillery shelling and dive-bombing of the enemy air force, have resisted, with the exception of one which fell after a particularly strong attack.

10 TANKS DESTROYED

"Ten enemy tanks were destroyed by our artillery fire and anti-tank devices. Five to six enemy aircraft were shot down by our planes and anti-aircraft guns. We took some prisoners. "Certain areas of our national territory, for reasons of operations and in order to avoid unnecessary losses, have been evacuated by our forces. "Eventually the enemy, having made some progress, was stopped all along the front. "In Albanian there was patrol and artillery activity."

ITALIAN CLAIMS

ROME (AP)—The Italian high command issued this communique Monday:

"Beginning hostilities against Yugoslavia yesterday, our air squadrons attacked land, naval and air objectives on the Greek-Jugoslav fronts. At Split, port works and ships in the bay were bombed and two steamers of medium tonnage sunk. At Cattaro, the port was bombed, causing serious damage to installations. A destroyer and a drydock were hit and a steamer was sunk.

"An arsenal near Cattaro was seriously damaged.

"Another destroyer was hit. A munitions dump was blown up. Our planes also attacked seaplanes in the harbor and anti-aircraft emplacements. An enemy plane was destroyed and numerous others damaged. The air base at Mostar suffered serious damage. Bridges and communications were mined and also bombed, causing interruptions. "In air fights two enemy planes were shot down. Two of our planes are missing. "The enemy air force bombed Scutari (Albania) wounding several and causing limited damage."

New Arbitration For Car Men

A wage dispute concerning electric railway and motor coach employees of the B.C. Electric Railway Company in Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster will go to arbitration under the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act, Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, said today.

Under the act each side will choose a member of the arbitration board and these two will select a chairman. If they fail to agree the chairman will be appointed by the labor minister.

Mr. Pearson announced today the appointment of Mr. Justice Sydney Smith as special arbitrator of a dispute of bus maintenance men in Vancouver which resulted in a 5-day tie-up of buses last week. He was selected under a "peace plan" which ended the strike, with both sides agreeing to accept his findings.

St. Mary's Men's Guild will meet in the hall on Thursday at 8. O. A. Butters will speak on the Middle East.

Allis-Chalmers Reopens Works

Negotiations Extension Averts U.S. Steel Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Threat of a work stoppage Tuesday night in the mills of the U.S. Steel Corporation passed today when an agreement was reached extending the current wage negotiations between the union and the management.

The C.I.O. Steel Workers' Organizing Committee, in a statement issued from the conference, said work would be continued in all of U.S. Steel mills until April 15 under the existing contract.

Any changes in wage and working conditions agreed on during that time shall be made retroactive to April 1, original expiration date of the contract.

The extension was announced less than a half hour after the National Steel Corporation, one of "Big Steel's" competitors, had granted a wage increase of 10 cents an hour to hourly rate employees.

A demand for a 10 cent an hour raise has been the chief demand of the union in its negotiations with the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation, biggest of U.S. steel's subsidiaries and pacesetter of the steel industry.

Both Carnegie-Illinois and National Steel pay a minimum wage of 62 1/2 cents an hour.

Pincher Creek Mishap

PINCHER CREEK, Alta. (CP)—Frank Bogart, 65, old-time resident of this district, was instantly killed and three others seriously injured when the coupe in which they were riding crashed into a truck loaded with lumber parked two miles south of Pincher Creek. Walter Bogart, driver of the car, sustained severe cuts about the face and Mrs. Bogart, his wife, and I. Simmon of Waterton Park, suffered severe shock and bruises. All three received treatment in St. Vincent's Hospital here.

4 YOUTHS KILLED

MEDFORD, Ore. (AP)—Four youths were killed and seven injured early yesterday in a head-on automobile collision on the Sams Valley road near here.

The dead: Orville Zimmerman, 17; Bill Lees and Byron Miller, all of Central Point, and Earl L. Baker, C.C.C. enrollee stationed near Butte Falls.

The injured include Rex Coy, Lawrence Cassman and William Merritt, all of Central Point, and Alfred Williams, Delton Rogers, Ed L. Morris and N. H. Crain, all C.C.C. enrollees.

Deputy Sheriff William Grembreiner said both cars were telescoped by the crash, which he described as "terrific."

R.A.F. Bomb Damages Nazi Warship

LONDON (AP)—A German destroyer torpedoed by a British plane yesterday was believed sunk and another destroyer was damaged by a bomb, an Air Ministry communique said today.

The communique also reported another attack on the Brest naval base, where the German battleships Scharnhorst and Gneisenau are sheltering, and offensive patrols over northern France by daylight yesterday.

Triumph on First Flight

A British pilot making his first operational flight was credited with scoring the torpedo hit believed to have sent the German destroyer to the bottom off the northwest coast of France. Flying a Beaufort plane, the pilot sighted three German destroyers a few miles west of Ile de Batz.

"The pilot dived to release his torpedo before the escorting Messerschmitts could intercept," the ministry news service related.

"His crew said the torpedo made a direct hit amidships on one of the destroyers, throwing up a great spout of water."

British fighter planes shot down one Messerschmitt off Cap Griz Nez and a German Dornier 17 off the Suffolk coast this morning. The ministry of information said. and played so big a part in the victory. And Canada's part today is not less important and, I believe, of much greater dimension than it was then.

We'll go on fighting until we have chased those Nazis right back to Berlin. We have probably to go through many arduous, trying times before we win through, but you know, I think we have become hardened to the bombings and they will have to devise something a whole lot more deadly and terrifying to scare us at all. You probably know what a terrific blasting this city underwent last November. We have a ruined town, but we are still working hard in the factories turning out those weapons of war which spell defeat for the Nazis. They may have broken the buildings, the schools, the hospitals, the dwelling houses and the lovely cathedral, but they haven't broken our spirit and never will. We aren't being fanatically brave or anything like that. There are things we are fighting for, which are worth all the hardship and misery, all the suffering and distress in the world. One cannot pay too high a price to keep here, helping in the fight to maintain those things that make life worth living than in any far-away country which is at peace. I consider it a very real honor to take part in this fight, for we believe we are fighting not merely on behalf of ourselves and the people throughout the British Empire but for free peoples all over the world.

To you people out there in Canada, greetings and best wishes. One really does feel close to you these days, we have so many of your fine fellows over here. We're going to sink or swim together. You know this British Empire of ours is just about the best thing this little old world has got. I think we all should be mighty proud to be members of it these days and, speaking for the Mother Country, I can say without hesitation, "Canada, we are mighty, mighty proud of you."

So goodbye and good luck. You can count on us right to the end.

Watching Soviet Union

HERBERT MORRISON, Minister of Home Security, commenting on Germany's double invasion, said at Nottingham: "What has happened was expected. It was only a question of time."

"I hope," he added, "that Turkey will realize this is a moment of decision when the security of all the Balkans is involved."

He said he welcomed news of the Russian-Jugoslav pact of friendship and nonaggression.

"We must not put too much store on that, but if it means a turning point in the policy of the Soviet Union it will not only be a good thing for Europe but for the Soviet Union."

Ivan Subotitch, Yugoslav minister to London, said: "It would be an outrage of truth and a violation of good sense to pretend that my country wanted war."

"We have now been attacked at night and on a Sunday," he said in a statement. "I am particularly horrified by the contents of an order of the day (by Hitler) addressed to the German army by its inviting German troops to employ brutal methods against my compatriots."

Letters to the Editor

SUSPECTS HE IS A BANKER

John R. Scooby says that I "deal with money and credits from a basis that is unsound in practice." As the method of using money and credit as advocated by me has never been put into practice I fail to see how his contention can be correct.

To take part of a sentence of my letter to suit his particular argument is hardly fair.

The rest of his letter is clearly an exposition of the method of finance and banking as advocated and carried on by Graham Towers, Jackson Dods, et al. I have not the pleasure of knowing Mr. Scooby, but he displays such a thorough knowledge of the mechanics of banking and finance that I would venture the guess he either has been or is now working in a bank.

PROMPT ANSWER

Sunday, March 23, the King proclaimed a day of prayer to ask for help from Almighty God in this vital struggle, and according to the press his subjects poured into churches in earnest prayer. During the week following (just as in 1918 and before Dunkerque) first Hitler's scheme in the Balkans was completely frustrated, Cheren was taken, practically giving us Eritrea, then a major part of the Italian fleet sunk and damaged, all the while Ethiopia is being quickly restored and freed to her rightful owners, showing what direct answer and help earnest prayer will bring.

On Sunday I tuned in on various services, thinking every minister would seize this glorious opportunity of bringing to the attention of his congregation this real and living proof of the power of earnest prayer, but in only one case did I hear this prompt answer by the Almighty mentioned, and in most cases this wonderful help was completely ignored; the higher the dignitary preaching, the further he was away from the living reality. No wonder pews are empty! If, on your request, a friend helps you instantly when you are in danger and need of help, he is an unthankful churl, who cannot give just as prompt thanks for the help asked for, and it makes it hard to obtain further help when needed.

Perhaps this was a too material help for the churches to notice, but it was a material victory and help we were asking for, if it was His will. The prompt answer and its nature is to my simple mind amazing, seeing the apathy abroad.

WHO WAS RESPONSIBLE?

A few weeks ago boys enrolled at Victoria High and Junior High told their parents that, as cadets, they were going to have an inspection on Tuesday, April 1, and they were requested to attend that cadet inspection in dark trousers and white, long-sleeved shirts. So their parents whose boys did not possess such paraphernalia—not wanting to put their sons in an embarrassing situation—pinched enough out of their meagre income to get them these things for that occasion. Tuesday, April 1, came; some rain had fallen in the night and the sky was overcast; in the middle of the morning the drizzle started, and by changing into real rain my personal weather notes of that day say: "10 a.m. drizzle, later rain whole day—rotten wet". ENCOURAGEMENT FROM COVENTRY

I believe it's high time someone wrote and told you Canadians just how grateful we are for all you are doing to help us win this war. Of all the Dominions I believe the war effort of Canada is being most felt in this country. We have thousands of our soldiers and airmen, their numbers steadily increase all the time. There are all the munitions and planes you are producing for us, all the food you are sending over here, and the Empire Air Training Scheme you have in operation over there.

Those are the big things. I know you are doing small things, too, which are just as much appreciated although they might not receive so much prominence, the buying of war savings stamps, sending money to Britain to buy Spitfires, the contributions to the Canadian Red Cross. I guess there are a thousand and one things you are doing to show that you are with us in this fight. And, believe me, that knowledge is very encouraging and inspiring to us people over here. Shut up here in this island, working hard by day, being bombed by night with the threat of invasion hanging over us, our plight would indeed be a sorry one were it not for the knowledge that across the seas there stands a mighty country which knows that our cause is its cause and is determined that we shall not fight alone.

And we're not going to fail you. With the help of yourselves, the other Empire countries and the materials we expect to get from the U.S., I firmly believe we are going to win. Already we have the Axis partner, Italy, tottering and her empire completely gone. So it will be with the Nazis when the times comes to attack them. And I know Canada will be there when the end comes, represented by sons and daughters of the men who fought so valiantly in the last Great War.

IF YOU GET UP NIGHTS YOU CAN'T FEEL RIGHT

If you have to get up 3 or more times a night your rest is broken and it's no wonder if you feel old and run down before you get up. Kidney and bladder troubles may be the cause of many pains and symptoms simply because the kidneys may be tired and not working fast enough to filter and remove irritating excess acids, poisons and wastes from your blood. So if you get up nights or suffer from burning, scanty or frequent passages, leg pain, back ache, or nervousness, due to kidney and bladder troubles, you'll make no mistake in trying Cystex. Because it has given such joyous, happy results in so high a percentage of cases, Cystex is used as a guarantee of money back on return of empty package unless completely satisfactory.

Cystex costs only 35c at drug stores and the money back offer protects you.

FLAG INCIDENT

May I be permitted to correct several inaccuracies appearing in an article in a Sunday paper, page 2, "German Emblem Inside School?"

In the first place the "design" was not inside, but on the outside wall. If it had been inside, Mrs. Ogura, the informant, would not have been able to see the children working on the drawing as her house is some 75 feet from the building and it would have been impossible for anyone to see that distance and through the windows of the school. Further, from one of the boys who saw it, the design was of a flag but the swastika was reversed, which is the Indian or Finnish method. The inference is that this was taught or condoned by Rev. Y. Ogura, who teaches in the school. As a matter of fact there is no session of the school on Saturdays.

It is believed that it was the prank (thoughtless) of some child who parked a bicycle in the shed, which is customary, while attending a nearby theatre, as it was not seen by the janitor whose duty it is to clean the buildings inside and out, neither was it seen by Mrs. Ogura who passed several times during the day. As soon as it was brought to the attention of Rev. Ogura it was removed.

Having been connected with the Japanese United Mission held in the building for the past 12 or 13 years, I feel that I can speak of the feeling of the Japanese people of this city with the authority of one who knows them as few people do.

For many months the Union Jack has held a place of honor in the auditorium and schoolroom and at the Christmas entertainment ceremony was held with the displaying of the Union Jack, at which time all present rose and sang God Save the King. There is also inside the school room a letter from H.R.H. Princess Elizabeth expressing her thanks for a donation to the Princess Elizabeth Fund. On the wall also there is a placard urging the purchase of War Savings certificates and each class of the Sunday school, at the request of Mr. Ogura, is purchasing at least one certificate. There are other evidences of the loyalty of the Canadian Japanese and their appreciation of the treatment accorded them in this country.

You will probably recall that the Japanese allotment for the War Services Fund was $1,500, the amount contributed was $2,000. I am authorized to state that if any of the public wish at any time to inspect the school Mr. Ogura would be very pleased to welcome them.

Nazi Crew Taken By Prince Henry?

LIMA, Peru (AP)—Fate of the crew of the scuttled 4,833-ton German merchantman Hermonthis, which was reported to have sunk in flames about 180 miles off shore five days ago, developed into a mystery today.

The Hermonthis and the 5,619-ton Muenchen sailed without papers from Callao the night of March 31 and evaded Peruvian warships sent to intercept them.

Crewmen of the Muenchen landed at two Peruvian ports last Thursday and reported they had taken to lifeboats after scuttling the vessel when intercepted by the Canadian auxiliary cruiser Prince Henry.

They said the Prince Henry shot three shells over the bow of the Muenchen, circled the scuttled ship and headed for the Hermonthis about 20 miles away.

Because the crewmen spoke broken Spanish first reports from Huarmel and Casma Sigue, where they landed, indicated the crews of the two vessels had reached shore.

Another check proved the 48 men (one was killed when a lifeboat capsized in heavy surf at Huarmel) to be members of the Muenchen's crew. They said it was likely the crew of the Hermonthis, about 50 men, were taken aboard the Prince Henry.

Working for Canada

SENATOR CLAUDE PEPPER, who recently visited Canada, said in Washington he was working on a scheme to equalize Canadian and American dollars, thus relieving Canada of a severe financial burden in paying war costs in the United States.

The senator, a Democrat from Florida, said his plan was only in a vague form at present, but "I am working on it and I think something can be arranged through the medium of the export and import bank."

He suggested the United States government, through the Treasury, to start with, might reach an agreement with the railways, hotels and travel agencies to share the cost of permitting Canadians to spend their dollars at par in the United States.

Pepper said he hoped the whole western hemisphere eventually would adopt a common currency to avoid fluctuations and trade discriminations.

'In Our Favor'

HON. VINCENT MASSEY, Canadian High Commissioner in London, said in a recorded speech broadcast over a national network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation that "we have full cause to feel that the tide of events is turning in our favor."

"Our confidence is based not only on facts of arms—it is founded upon the knowledge we have gained during the dark months after Dunkerque of the stuff of which the British character is built," he said.

The high commissioner recorded the address on behalf of the Canadian War Services Fund campaign, conducted by six welfare agencies to provide benefits for the armed forces.

"Once again, British armies, British fleets and British squadrons are on the offensive," he said. "We have shown Britain can take it. The world now has learned. Britain can strike back."

400 Eagles at Anniversary

More than 400 Eagles and their friends gathered in the View Street clubrooms Saturday night to celebrate a two-fold event—the 42nd anniversary of the Victoria aerie and also the second anniversary of the taking over of the new quarters.

Included among the happy gathering were 30 up-land, brother lodgemen who hailed from Port Alberni, Ladysmith and Nanaimo.

The celebration opened with a banquet in the main hall, which was followed by a few brief speeches and toasts and concluded with an enjoyable dance which continued until the midnight hour. A four-piece orchestra provided the music for the dancers.

A. E. Chilton was chairman for the evening.

Feature of the decoration scheme in the auditorium were the illuminated crests of the lodge affixed to the walls. These bore a likeness of an eagle, accompanied with the four main objectives of the organization: "Truth, Justice, Liberty and Equality."

During the evening Dave Essler, president of Victoria aerie and district representative of the Grand Lodge, presented the Port Alberni president with the charter for his lodge.

The athletic qualities of the club were again displayed when Ted Scroggs, manager of the Eagles senior B basketball team, presented the president with the Vancouver Island championship trophy won by his team. The lodge has also made a fine name for itself in baseball, bowling and other sports and has many pieces of silverware to show in the trophy cabinet.

Lodge presidents from the three up-land towns extended messages of congratulations to the Victoria lodge on its double anniversary.

Dr. A. D. Bechtel and Messrs. Chilton and Essler also spoke. They spoke of the early struggle to form the local unit by pioneer members and traced its growth over the 42 years.

Laboratory examinations numbered 181, and included urinalysis 61, blood counts 32, sedimentations 100, smears 1, tuberculosis tests 4, pertussis antigen 4, diphtheria toxoid 5, staphylococcus toxoid 3, ledele immune globulin 46.

Hitler's Second Front

GERMANY CREATED HER NEW WAR front yesterday morning without the advantage of that element of surprise which served her purpose so admirably when her legions invaded Denmark and Norway in the early hours of April 9 last year. Not that her two-pronged drive into Yugoslavia and Greece territory is any the less serious because it had been anticipated and prepared for; but recent changes in the Balkan scene had given the two countries several days in which to take stock of their position and to reach some common understanding essential to fundamental collaboration. Greece has been fighting against heavy odds for more than five months; she has made Italy look stupid in the eyes of the whole world. The task of General Papagos will now be a more difficult one; substantial British assistance, however, will encourage his men. Yugoslavia comes fresh to the scene; but her lack of modern fighting paraphernalia will have to be made up largely by the prowess and courage of her soldiers and citizens. Nor will they be found wanting. Like the Greeks, the Serbs, the Croats, and the Slovenes prefer death in defence of their liberty to the sacrifice of their honor at the tyrant's command.

Until the new campaign begins to unfold it would be foolish to attempt anything in the nature of prediction. What is worth remembering, however, is that Yugoslavia's revolt from her qualified membership in the Axis was a development on which neither Hitler nor his high command had reckoned. All had gone swimmingly in the Balkans until the men of Berlin heard the first rumblings of discontent among the Yugoslav people—and especially among the Serbs. The coup d'état which General Dusan Simovic brought off with instantaneous popular approval caused both Germany and Italy a good deal of astonishment and more serious concern. This was not a case of a new government taking office merely for the sake of getting control of the nation's business at a crucial time in its history; on the contrary, it was a bloodless revolution undertaken by the people practically as a whole—a people fully able to understand the grave consequences to which they were exposing themselves. Thus was the new Prime Minister enabled to lay his plans with the utmost confidence. And he brought peace and understanding to the conflicting racial elements in his own land. Here in itself was the guarantee of a measure of national unity never before reached since the new nation emerged from the first Great War.

Hitler's mechanized might and his superiority in air power will probably give the Nazi invaders important initial advantages. Stout hearts and the best of rifles are not much of a match for a ponderous weight in metal. But only a comparatively small area of the new battle front lends itself to swift movement with tanks; and the men of Greece and Yugoslavia, fighting for their very existence, are experts in mountain warfare. Benito Mussolini requires no reminder on this point; his contribution to his senior partner's campaign must of necessity remain in the "token" category. He is beaten in Greece, his armed forces—sea, land, and air—have failed everywhere; and his African Empire is on its last legs. How many men and how much material Britain has placed at the disposal of Greece and Yugoslavia may be revealed before this new phase of the conflict has progressed far. We know that General Sir John Dill, chief of the Imperial General Staff, has had many conferences with military leaders in the Mediterranean countries, that on several occasions he has consulted with General Sir Archibald Wavell, and it is now suggested the latter has assumed command of all the British forces in Greece. In any event, the course Germany took yesterday morning, together with her general strategy in the Balkans, surprised nobody, least of all the men whose job it is to meet and defeat the threat.

Libya's Man of Blood

NOW THAT MARSHAL RODOLFO GRASIANI has joined the ranks of Italy's unemployed generals it is interesting to note some extracts from the "literature" he was inspired to write as he justified his title of "Scourge of Tripolitania." Not that such revelations of the workings of his mind are of much importance now; but they supply a partial explanation not only of his utter military failure but also a key to the attitude which the people he dominated were able in recent weeks to translate into tactics that helped his undoing in the campaign from which Mussolini had expected so much. Here are some of the less crude samples of his philosophy taken at random:

"To the population, the mobile police must give the impression of imminent death. They must be the bloodhounds who tear with their teeth: they must destroy them from day to day, man by man. . . . When I became governor in Bengazi, I immediately restarted penal procedure with the utmost vigor. . . . We decided to shift all the encampments towards the extreme corner of western Sirte. This meant moving the natives from the fertile zone round Bengazi into the desert. We then surrounded all the camps with double barbed wire, rationed food and reduced the pasture-lands. . . . I always felt an absolute conviction that all the chiefs should be killed by my own hands. The people around me heard this statement a thousand times, and with an almost religious fervor. . . . I told Hadi Cobar that he could present himself without fear of reprisals, because I hoped to be the best interpreter for the government's good will and clemency. Then we arrested Hadi Cobar with the other chiefs, accused him of being responsible for the rebellion, and hanged him like all the others. . . . I have always thought it useless to ask for, or listen to, the advice of subordinates. . . . Often I examine my conscience, regarding the accusations of atrocities, cruelty and violence which have been made against me. I never sleep better than on those nights when I had been thinking of those things. And when scruples still bothered me about the atrocities of which I was accused, I like to take refuge in the great teachings of Machiavelli: A prince should not bother about being accused of cruelty, so long as it serves the desired end. . . . to keep his subjects devoted to him."

Graziani wrote three books; they have now been published in English in one volume called "Roman Peace in Libya." The extracts we have quoted show how he gloats over his attempt to hold Mussolini's shoddy, bloodstained empire together. They reveal perfectly the face and soul of the type of dictatorship to which the Italian people were gradually committed after Benito's march to Rome on that October day of 1922. And we wonder how Rodolfo is sleeping these nights.

Our Offensive

LEADERS OF INTELLIGENT THOUGHT in Great Britain continue to preach against irresponsible optimism. Mr. Churchill has done his best to discourage it by repeatedly warning the people of the British Isles they are facing difficult months and that it would be criminal to underrate the vital character of the struggle. Yesterday's development in the Balkans may eventually work into the general pattern of a British and Allied offensive—either at Germany's back or front door, or both simultaneously—but before such a move becomes feasible it is probable we shall sustain a few more hard knocks. We have had much good news recently; and the Prime Minister reminded us the other day it may not always be so good. Not that there need be any serious misgivings about the ultimate victory.

It is to be noted, however, that references to the prosecution of the war beyond the point of defence already are beginning to appear. They may not be official; they scarcely encourage discussion by the layman; but the fact remains that we are now well on into the second year of hostilities—and at present the plan of the chief enemy in the main sphere of action is an offensive one. It is this year, moreover, to which Hitler looks for the victory he has promised the German people; they are confidently looking forward to the beginning of the "new order" in their own land. And continued reiteration of the promise of peace naturally is creating an ever-increasing demand for it. One observer in the Reich recently suggested that the young of the country is more interested in the search for pleasure than with serious politics. He puts it this way:

"These people here, above all the youth, have no serious ideas about anything. They simply want to enjoy life. They want to dance and amuse themselves. Jazz music over the radio from London is your best agent for propaganda. They prefer swing music to the 'Niebelungenlied'."

The fanatical Nazi will continue to regard the war with almost religious fervor; this element is believed to be in the minority. No matter how the adult or thinking German may feel about the whole Hitlerian scheme for Europe, the nauseating hysteria with which the totalitarian chief and his propagandists continue to surfeit the populace will command complete subservience only so long as the belief in promised victory and peace can be sustained. Not that anything in the nature of an organized insurrection is likely in the early future; but should the Germans get neither their victory nor their peace, expectation of either will have been substantially dissipated. Prolongation of the conflict beyond December 31, 1941, therefore, will be insured by our own offensive. When that begins in earnest the world—and the peoples of the Axis powers—will know the end is in sight; the end for Hitler and Mussolini.

CATTLE, FRUIT AND VEGETABLES

From Toronto Star
Canada's imports of fruit and vegetables from the United States have again been under discussion in Parliament. The Conservative leader suggests that the United States is dictating Canada's trade policy in this matter.

The fact is that Canada has a trade agreement with the United States and that the United States has consented to the varying of that agreement as a war measure by the imposition of Canadian embargoes on certain of its industrial products. But if fruit and vegetable importations are subjected to new restrictions, there at once arises the question of United States restrictions upon the importation of Canadian cattle. Mr. Isley points out that Canada cannot afford to lose its cattle export trade.

In every trade arrangement, the policy of each participating nation is, to a degree, made by the other. Canada's policy is made in Washington to the extent that Washington says what concessions it will make. The United States policy is made at Ottawa to the extent that Ottawa says what concessions Canada will make. In the present instance, the United States concedes a cattle market and Canada concedes a fruit and vegetable market. The nations trade tariff concessions in order that they may trade products. In the present instance, a group of agriculturists in the United States benefit by selling their fruit and vegetables here, while a group of Canadian agriculturists benefit by selling their cattle in the States.

WILLKIE'S STRANGE NEWS

UP TO NOW the United States has refused to open its markets to the world, even though it could not collect its debts without opening them. The leadership of this high-tariff, self-containment policy has rested always in the Republican Party, which produced the disastrous Fordney-McCumber and Smoot-Hawley tariffs. The leader of the Republican Party today is Wendell Willkie. Last week in Toronto Mr. Willkie, leader of the historic high-tariff party, said this:

"Above all, the British Commonwealth of Nations and the United States must join together in eliminating their own trade barriers and restrictions."

Mr. Willkie also attacked "outmoded nationalism and promoted economic hates," the failure to create international monetary standards enlarged trade areas and world economic recovery. Again he declared that after the defeat of Germany the nations of Europe "must live again vitally as part of a larger world of trade, not contracted into arid economic units."

This is strange doctrine indeed from the Republican Party. If it represents the views of the Republican Party it is the most hopeful economic news the world has heard for years. If it represents the majority opinion of the American people, regardless of party, it means that we may look forward after the war to a sound economic peace where, after the last war, we got a kind of international shot in the arm (by way of American loans and American refusal to accept repayment) which soon wore off into the depression of 1929.

CANADA'S PART

THE ISSUE DOES NOT rest entirely with the United States, however. If there is to be a real settlement, Canada must play its part, and a big one. Up to now Canada has shown no great intelligence in these sided trading bargains. We, too, have built up our tariff walls. We, like them, have kept out British goods and insisted on one-sided trading bargains. We, too, have built up our exorbitant industries under the lee of tariffs and find it almost impossible to liquidate them, even if we wanted to.

No settlement will be possible without great and painful changes in the economy of Canada, without shock to many industries, perhaps not without the ruin of some industries in the larger interest. Are we ready to face such issues? Up to now we have never shown ourselves ready. We rejected the great chance of 1911. We have been getting more and more protectionist, and in this war we are getting more and more self-contained, and more and more regulated by the state.

To retrace our steps will be far more difficult than taking them in the first place. But to that painful course there is only the alternative of more self-containment after the war, more regulation, and finally more wars.

Very likely we shall not have an entire liberty of choice. The United States and Britain, our two great and essential markets, must reach a new basis of business after the war, and we in Canada, selling to both of them, needing their markets, will have to adjust ourselves to that settlement. Whatever happens, our economy, our trade, our position in the stream of world trade, will never be the same again.

WHERE WOMEN FOLLOW NO RULES

Austin Cross, in Ottawa Citizen, on M.P.'s Inspection Tour of Westinghouse Plant at Hamilton

There were old hands and young apprentices, all in there hustling. Some girls had donned overalls to do men's work. In other parts, where the girls were single and conscious of eligible youths nearby, they primed and wore elaborate, impractical voiles and silks, more suitable for a pink tea than a war job. War or no war, women follow no rules when they glimpse a future breakfast partner.

"Pure humanity, friendship, home, the interchange of love, bring to earth a foretaste of heaven."—Mary Baker Eddy.

"In love one has need of being believed, in friendship of being understood."—Abel Bonnard.

STALIN ASLEEP?

The grim joke about the whole situation as between Hitler and Stalin is that each understands the other. If people like Rauschning knew that some of Hitler's advisers favor an invasion of Russia rather than of Turkey or Britain, Stalin knows that fact much more vividly.

The important point is how good is the Russian army? No body will ever know unless and until it is put to a real test against some first class military enemy. Thousands of people like Lindbergh and Wythe Williams think they know. Time will tell.

My own guess is that the German armored corps might find it relatively easy to crash through for long gains in the Ukraine; but then discover that it was easier to get in than out.

Meanwhile whatever else Stalin's strategy has done or failed to do it has helped to surround Germany with a ring of potential enemies. That was already true before Yugoslavia upset the Balkan applecart for Hitler. It is doubly apparent now.

FUTURE OF RUSSIA

Regardless of the outcome of the manoeuvres by Hitler and Stalin to accomplish the eventual downfall of the other this war is certain to end one complete phase of Soviet history.

If the Soviet outwits, outwits, or outflanks Nazi Germany one result of this war is bound to be a greatly strengthened Soviet Union. If and when Nazi Germany meets military defeat Russia is almost certain to continue to extend her domain in eastern and southeastern Europe. A Soviet Union stretching all the way from the Rhine to the Pacific is much more of a probability than a unified Nazi empire covering the same ground.

Such an extension indicates many possibilities. The worst would be the dawn of an era of red imperialism with the use of the Red armies to impose Soviet rule on all countries accessible to those forces.

NATIONAL BUILDING CODE

Engineering requirements of the national building code for use by Canadian municipalities have been published by the National Research Council at Ottawa. The model building code project was undertaken some three years ago by a group of committees organized under the joint sponsorship of the National Research Council and the Department of Finance. To make the work of the various committees available as quickly as possible, parts of the code are being published separately. Part 3 deals with engineering requirements and sets out minimum standards necessary to ensure the safety and durability of a building or other structure. (256 pages, $1.75, National Research Council, Ottawa.)

Wood, masonry, reinforced concrete, and steel construction are dealt with. Minimum values of loads are prescribed, and detailed regulations are given for excavations, foundations, walls and partitions, floors and roofs, and roof coverings.

Some of the newer subjects considered include the use of fibre board, gypsum board, and plywood as sheathing in wood frame construction, the use of glass blocks in masonry construction, the use of welding in structural steel work. New and more economical methods for the design of steel beams are presented and many features of interest will be found in the section dealing with reinforced concrete design.

DOUBLE DOUGH

From Toronto Star
How to have a double pay day every sixth week is explained by the Chicago News. When paid on Saturday, don't cash your cheque until Monday. The following week, don't cash your cheque until Tuesday, and thus, by holding your cheque 24 hours longer each week, you will, in the sixth week, find yourself with two cheques on Saturday.

"Plastics," says a chemist, "are moving into an important role in freeing metals badly needed in production for national defence."

Weddings

McEIGH—PETERSON

Miss Barbara Peterson, former superintendent of nurses at the King's Daughters' Hospital, Duncan, was the bride at a quiet wedding held in Richmond Presbyterian Church, Saturday morning at 11. Rev. John McTurk read the service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. John Peterson and the late Mrs. Peterson of the Shetland Islands, and the groom's parents are the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert McVeigh of Belfast, Ireland. Tallman roses set in lily of the valley and white heather were pinned on the bride's attractive three-piece suit in cherry-bark shade, with which she wore boy accessories. Mrs. William White attended her and wore a pale shade of blue topped by a navy coat and hyacinths with her Tallman rose corsage. Mr. White was groomsmen. Captain William Thompson gave his niece in marriage. Miss Margaret Kerr sang "Through the Years."

The bride's aunt, Mrs. Blyth, received with her at the Dolphin after the ceremony.

MYERS—PRINCE

At St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, on Saturday evening at 7.30, Rev. Cyril Venables united in marriage Yvonne Roma, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Prince, 2422 Oak Bay Esplanade, and John Edward Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Myers, 990 Talmie Avenue. The church was effectively arranged with spring flowers, and the wedding music was played by the church organist.

Mr. Prince gave his daughter in marriage. She wore an afternoon frock of crepe in Serenade blue, with rose accessories, and a corsage bouquet of roses and gardenias. Mrs. E. Halka was the matron of honor in a frock of dawn rose crepe, with navy accessories, and a corsage bouquet of carnations and violets. Mr. Ernest Myers supported his brother, and Messrs Myron Ashton and James Prince were ushers.

After the ceremony, a number of guests were welcomed by the bride's parents at their home. Mrs. Prince received in a gown of rose, with navy accessories, assisted by Mrs. Myers, mother of the groom, wearing a frock of turquoise blue with rose accessories, both wearing corsage bouquets of pink carnations. The bride and groom received the good wishes of their guests beneath a floral arch.

The supper table was covered with an Irish linen cloth, and centred with the three-tier wedding cake, flanked with vases of daffodils and tulips. The two sisters and brother of the groom, Mrs. L. The exhibition is in personal charge of Mr. Ensor and may be seen at 914 Government Street, and thanks to the artist's generosity the proceeds from the small admission fee is donated to local Red Cross funds.

Dorothy Spitfire Fund Now Over $550 Mark

Exceeding their most sanguine expectations, the Dorothys of Victoria have, to date, raised over $550 towards the Dorothy Spitfire fund, and hope by the time it closes on Easter Monday to have exceeded the $600 mark.

MRS. WISMER HOSTESS

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. Gordon Wismer was hostess at a silver tea in aid of the fund, at her home on Shasta Place, netting $40 for the fund.

The house was attractively arranged with spring flowers in profusion, the tea table being centred with rose stocks, yellow wallflowers and great hyacinths, and silver candelabra with yellow tapers carried out the springtime atmosphere.

Mrs. A. A. Meharey and Mrs. W. P. Unsworth poured tea, assisted by Mrs. W. D. Osborn, Mrs. Dorothy Spurr and Mrs. Dorothy Kitchener.

The handsome silver tureen went to Mrs. Sutherland, Fort William, Ont., who was a visitor here for the recent Empress golf tournament.

MRS. WOODWARD'S TEA

At the tea given on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Woodward, Fairfield Road, the sum of $25 was realized for the same fund. Mrs. Dorothy Sehl, Mrs. Emmerson Smith and Mrs. R. K. Wood were co-hostesses with Mrs. Woodward. Pouring tea were Mrs. Leonard Wilks, Mrs. Dorothy Ramsay, Mrs. Dorothy Kitchener and Mrs. James Cameron. The table was arranged with mauve stocks and white carnations, with matching candles in silver candelabra. Assisting in serving were Misses Hilda Kyle, Joan Wilks and Brenda Woodward.

Mrs. Cyril Warren had charge of the silver collection and Mrs. Ethel Frey told fortunes. The door prize was won by Mrs. R. T. Freeman and the contests by Mrs. Schroeder and Marilyn Sehl.

The guests enjoyed a musical program which included piano solos by Miss Margaret Husband; vocal solos by Miss Peggy Butterfield, Mrs. James Cameron as accompanist, and vocal solos by Mrs. Woodward. Joy Groves amused the guests with her impersonations.

Donations to the fund may be left at the Imperial Bank until Monday.

Native Daughters' Tea Successful

One of the most successful teas held this spring season took place on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. F. Dalziel, 1128 Topaz Avenue, when members of the Native Daughters of British Columbia, Post No. 3, entertained a large number of their friends. The proceeds of this tea will be devoted to the purchase of wool for refugee work.

The guests were welcomed at the door by Mrs. D. E. Nickerson, the vice-president of the post, who acted on behalf of the Chief Factor, who was unable to attend. She was assisted by the hostess, Mrs. R. F. Dalziel. Mrs. J. E. Kinsman was the custodian of the receipts.

The tea table was charmingly arranged with an Italian cut-work cloth, and centred with a cut-glass bowl of narcissi and daffodils. At each end of the table were placed a yellow and white candle set in cut-glass holders, the color scheme being carried out throughout in yellow and white, which are the post's colors. Mrs. Leonard Hobbs and Mrs. W. J. U. Church poured.

A delightful program was given by several artists when Mrs. W. G. Davy played and sang several pleasing numbers. Miss Vera Bell, a promising pupil of Mrs. Wallace Gunn, delighted the guests with two vocal selections, accompanied by Mrs. W. G. Davy at the piano. Several piano numbers were charmingly played by Miss Eileen Clarke. The door prize was won by Mrs. J. Creet.

BOOKED FOR FIREMEN'S BALL—Dal Richards' popular Vancouver orchestra, which will make its second 1941 Victoria appearance on April 25 when it provides the music for the annual firemen's ball at the Empress Hotel. The Richards' orchestra is one of the fastest rising bands in the country and made a big hit with local dancers when it appeared here earlier this year at the same hotel. Much of the band's success has been credited to Maestro Dal's ability to pick a hit when hearing a new song. Outstanding among these is "Till the Lights of London Shine Again," which the band introduced in Canada. Another hit he picked is the lovely Juliette who appears as vocalist with the orchestra. Other featured members are drummer boy Tommy Mack and tenor soloist Frank Lynn. The committee arranging the ball promises an entertaining evening for all who attend.

plumbers and pipe fitters. Any men who have the necessary qualifications can be employed at their own trade in the army, and will be paid trades pay in addition to their regular $1.30 a day, and dependents allowance for the wife of $35 a month as well as $12 a month each for a maximum of two children.

In order to help to fill the large number of vacancies for tradesmen, another series of army trade training classes will commence on Monday, April 21, and will continue for three months. The courses will include carpenters, motor mechanics, instrument mechanics and blacksmiths. The personnel for the courses will be drawn from the Active Force Units, Reserve Force Units and trainees from Gordon Head and Vernon who have completed their courses at these two centres.

Eight recruiting officers with complete staffs are still travelling the province, and large numbers of recruits are arriving at the depots in Victoria and Vancouver daily. Their efforts are being redoubled in order to meet the extra demands being made on them. Men from the cities of Victoria and Vancouver can be medically examined and enlisted at Bay Street Armories, Victoria, and Seaforth Armories, Vancouver.

There is still time for young men who wish to take part in these courses to join the army and be accepted for them. For full details, they should write to Lieut. Black, Staff Officer for Educational Training, Work Point Barracks, Victoria.

ENSOR PAINTINGS ATTRACT INTEREST

An exhibition of paintings by John Ensor, well-known young English artist in the 900 Block, Government Street, is attracting wide attention. It will show until the end of this week, proceeds going to the Red Cross Society.

There are several lovely paintings of the English countryside, farms, the South Downs, farm lands in Wales and Cornish fishing villages.

It is not so much the features of the landscape that form the subject of his paintings, but the mood, as is instanced by the "Summer Showers" and a tree in a strong breeze on Hampstead Heath. Very attractive is a scene through a London window just at dusk. There are also several paintings of places which are known to have been destroyed by the war.

The paintings of British Columbia scenery are outstanding. One of the most beautiful shows the snow-capped Olympics across the Strait, made the more real by the washing hanging out on the line in the foreground. Also being shown is a lovely scene of Cadboro Bay, the Willows fair tents at night, the Okanagan sawmills, the great Douglas fir tree trunks at Elk Falls and Victoria harbor. In one room are featured etchings done in France, Italy and Portugal.

In all there are about 60 paintings on display.

TWILIGHT RECITAL

The Georgian Chorists, under the leadership of Georgina Watt, with Ethel James at the piano, and Jack Smith at the organ, gave the twilight sacred recital yesterday afternoon at First Baptist Church.

This choir, whose voices blended beautifully, sang with lovely tone and artistic finish.

Solos were taken by Irene McElin, Claretta Hardy and Grace E. Scott, Nellie Savin and Madeleine Gurney being heard in a duet. Among Mr. Smith's contributions were the majestic "Easter Hymn of Triumph."

Next Sunday afternoon's recital will be given by the choir of First Baptist Church. Stainer's "Crucifixion" will be heard.

Brig. Loggie Resting Here

Brigadier Gerald Purves Loggie, the man who was directly responsible for the speedy mechanization of the Canadian divisions in Great Britain, is in the city today from Ottawa.

With Mrs. Loggie, he is registered at the Empress, planning to remain here for two or three weeks on vacation.

"I am here on sick leave for a short time," said Brig. Loggie when seen by a Times reporter this morning. "This is a good place to rest up, and I intend to take things easy for a while."

He brushed aside questions concerning details of the mechanization of the Canadian forces with the reply: "That's all been told; there's really nothing new about it—it was just a matter of organization and co-operation."

Brig. Loggie founded and operated a motor manufacturing plant to outfit the Canadians in embattled Britain when the British output was being taxed to full capacity by war demands.

Princess Alice Sees Guides, Women's Corps

H.R.H. Princess Alice visited Girl Guides and Brownies Saturday afternoon at the Armories, was lustily cheered and given every honor accorded her high rank. As she arrived, dressed as a Girl Guide, Her Highness was given the Royal Salute and was greeted by Mrs. A. B. Morkill, provincial commissioner of the Guides; Miss Leighton, divisional commissioner for south Vancouver Island; Mrs. Layard, divisional commissioner for south Saanich; Miss Denny, divisional commissioner for the Cowichan Valley, and Mrs. W. Curtis Sampson, representing the Victoria Girl Guide Association.

After inspecting the smart guard of honor, Her Highness shook hands with the officer-in-charge, Lieut. Richardson. Color companies dipped their colors as Her Royal Highness passed. The march past, at which Princess Alice took the salute, was most impressive. The Guides and Brownies marched to music of the Victoria Boys' Band, which was inspected also, Her Highness speaking to the bandmaster and congratulating him and the boys. Often Princess Alice stopped to chat with the Guides, showing great interest in their badges.

GRAND HOWL

The regal visitor was obviously thrilled when the Brownies gave her the Grand Howl and showed much interest in the ceremonial, two small Brownies taking her by the hand and leading her into the centre of the floor. Two Victoria companies, 2nd Victoria West and 1st Victoria East, received their colors, the world flag, from the hands of Princess Alice. Addressing the Guides and Brownies, Her Highness captivated all by her simple charm and warm friendliness. She congratulated them on having stood so long and said she would "love to join them all at camp next summer."

Her Royal Highness feelingly told what splendid work the Guides of the British Isles were doing in the present emergency and she said she knew Guides of Canada, too, would always do their part for their King and country. She reported how Guides all over the Empire had worked together to buy ambulances, collecting $250,000 for this purpose.

Three nurses from St. John Ambulance Brigade were presented to Her Royal Highness. They were Mrs. J. Lindal, Lady Ambulance Officer; Ambulance Sister Miss W. Woodward, and Cadet Gloria Kendal.

WOMEN'S SERVICE CORPS

Women from Victoria, other parts of Vancouver Island and the lower mainland, banded together in the B.C. Women's Service Corps and ready to do anything they can for Canada in her hour of need, received encouragement from Princess Alice Saturday evening at the Armories.

As Her Royal Highness entered the building she was met by Mrs. A. B. Morkill, assistant controller of the corps, who acted as special aide for the evening. The 250 women in uniform stood at attention for the royal salute, played by the bugler, Pte. J. A. Ellis.

The march past, done with precision and military smartness, was directed by Mrs. Norman Kennedy, corps controller, and Miss A. L. McLennan. A special display of military marching was given, which much interested Princess Alice.

Speaking to the assembled company, Her Highness told them not to be discouraged by setbacks or criticisms, which were bound to arise.

"CARRY ON"

"Carry on," she said. "The time will surely come when your services will be needed. Remember always that you are women and that you must conduct yourselves according to the highest standards of womanhood."

"I know only too well that before any uniformed corps can be brought up to strength efficiently there are criticisms which have to be faced, and there will be hard work. As the wife of the Governor-General I must avoid any remarks of a political or contentious character, but I know how you are burning with great zeal to serve, and all I can say again is 'Carry On.' Be ready, that you may be found worthy, do not be afraid, for every new ideal must prove itself."

Following the inspection, Her Royal Highness, accompanied by Hon. Ariel Baird, her lady-in-waiting; Lieut. D. Lantier, R.C.N.V.R., her aide; Mrs. E. W. Hamber and Mrs. Mae Rice, with officers of the corps and a number of other special guests had supper with Lieut.-Col. G. G. Aitken and the senior officers of the district depot, in the officers' mess. Among the special guests were Major Gen. and Mrs. R. O. Alexander, Col. and Mrs. L. W. Miller, Col. and Mrs. J. F. Preston, Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. Hugh Allan, Major and Mrs. Dobbie,

Cesar Romero in Dominion Show

Dashing Cesar Romero is in "Tall, Dark and Handsome!" coming tomorrow to the Dominion Theatre. Milton Berle and Charlotte Greenwood, veterans in the art of comedy, also featured, add the lighter touches to what has been hailed as a sparkling film.

Action starts popping in the very first reel when Romero, as the Romeo of the rackets, falls for beautiful Virginia Gilmore, a nurse.

To Berle goes the job of finding a "son" for the gang overlord. Milton does more than that—re-creating tough little Stanley "Slash" Clements, graduate of the Major Bowes amateur hour. Charlotte Greenwood acts as housekeeper and things go along pleasantly enough until a rival gangster, "Pretty Willie," ably portrayed by Sheldon Leonard, tries to muscle in on Cesar's territory.

"HIRED WIFE" AT OAK BAY

A record of some kind was hung up by producer-director William Seiter during production of Universal's "Hired Wife," now at the Oak Bay Theatre.

Although he has been directing for nearly a quarter of a century, the picture marked the first time Seiter ever shot the opening and closing sequences of a film on the same set and the same day.

"SOUTH OF PAGO PAGO," RIO PICTURE

Edward Small knew that he had a truly great screen property when he decided to produce "South of Pago Pago," the epic of South Seas romance and intrigue, which will have its premiere at the Rio Theatre today through United Artists release. That is why he spared neither energy nor expense and that is why he chose an impressive cast headed by Jon Hall, who won sensational fame as the hero of "The Hurricane." Other important names in the cast include Frances Farmer, Victor McLaglen, Gene Lockhart, Douglas Dumbrille, Olympe Bradna and Francis Ford.

From now till further notice Mr. H. J. Fisher's garden, Tudor Avenue, with its shrubbery and view from the rocks, will be open to the public including children. A Red Cross box will be placed for donations from 5 cents upwards.

Capt. and Mrs. L. W. Johnson, R. W. Mayhew, M.P., and Mrs. Mayhew, Capt. H. A. Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. D. Pemberton, Commissioner T. W. S. Parsons and Inspector S. F. M. Moddie of the B.C. Police; Capt. and Mrs. Williams, Mrs. E. B. Clegg and Mrs. R. Sweeney, all from Vancouver.

Arrangements for both afternoon and evening performances at the Armories were ably made by Corp. H. E. Ker and Sergeant Robillard.

"No, No, Nanette" Coming to Capitol

Romance and an anti-blackmail scheme comprise the dual themes of "No, No, Nanette," Anna Neagle's new musical offering coming tomorrow to the Capitol Theatre.

"Tea for Two," "I Want to Be Happy" and "No, No, Nanette," the three hit tunes of the original Broadway success, are woven into the picture along with a remarkable dream dance sequence. Herbert Wilcox produced and directed the film for RKO Radio, with Ken Englund streamlining the screen play. Richard Carlson and Victor Mature have the romantic leads opposite Miss Neagle, and Roland Young, Helen Broderick and Zasu Pitts are in the cast.

"NO TIME FOR COMEDY"—YORK

A film replete with sprightly dialogue, fine acting and delightfully humorous situations will make its local bow today when Warner Bros. "No Time for Comedy," opens at the York Theatre.

The picture stars two of moviegoers' most popular players, James Stewart and Rosalind Russell. Stewart plays the part of a country playwright who comes to the big town and stumbles everywhere by writing so understandingly, of the "Park Avenue crowd." Rosalind Russell, in the role of a successful stage actress who plays leads in Stewart's plays, learns of his formula for writing hit plays.

"FIRST ROMANCE" COMES TO PLAZA

Once in a blue moon a picture comes out of Hollywood which, forgetting all about the so-called movie art, proceeds to tell a delightful story, tells it cleverly and with sincerity, and when finished, leaves every patron with a smile on his face and warmth in his heart.

Such a film is Monogram's "Her First Romance," co-starring Edith Fellows and Wilbur Evans, which opens today at the Plaza Theatre. Upon examination of the production, it is no surprise that it achieves this elite classification, inasmuch as the screenplay was written by Adele Comandini, who was also responsible for the first Deanna Durbin film, "Three Smart Girls."

"Strike Up the Band" brings Mickey Rooney, Judy Garland, June Preisner and other clever youngsters to the screen in another lilt musical of youth, their first since their smash hit in "Babes in Arms." It is the current attraction at the Cadet Theatre.

Hitler Tries to Twist Truth, Says Athens

German Falsehoods Do Not Mislead World

ATHENS (AP)—An authorized Greek statement denied today the charges in a German note which said Greece had brought war on herself by violating neutrality and permitting British forces to land on European soil.

The text of the Greek statement:

This matter of unprovoked aggression on the part of the Germans against Greece is now justified. In fact, allegations advanced in the (German) note constitute pure pretexts having no foundation.

Since the beginning of the war to the Italian attack on October 28, 1940, Greece, despite many provocations, scrupulously observed an attitude of strict neutrality. Universal public opinion is convinced of this and no artifice can shake this conviction.

Neutrality Known to Germans

The German government never published or communicated with the Greek government anything putting Greek neutrality in doubt. On the contrary, the Reich government a short time before the Italian attack did not fail to recognize in the solemnest manner the policy of strict neutrality observed by Greece.

At the moment of Italian aggression, in virtue of a guarantee accorded Greece—a guarantee the German government knew about—the British government offered Greece all assistance she would ask. The Greek government, however, despite the enormous disproportion between the Greek and Italian forces, asked only aerial aid, very limited.

Recognized Limited Action

This almost exaggerated caution of the Greek government to avoid any misunderstanding was recognized on several occasions by the German government, and notably by way of its diplomatic representative in Athens who declared more than once that a few English air effective would not interest his government so long as the action was limited to the Italian front.

Even despite these facts the Greek government did not fail to declare by official communiques recently published that measures taken in Greece were essentially defensive and on her side there existed no intention of provoking extension of the war in the Balkans.

Nazis Work Hard At Twisting Truth

The German government tries in vain to twist the truth. The fact remains undeniable that the Great German Reich, sharing the Italian conception of what Greece ought to be, has put its war machine in motion to give a stab in the back to this little country at a moment when it struggles heroically for existence.

The world will judge. (The Germans had said: "Greece, as early as September, 1939, had put out feelers to the Turkish government.")

"(2. At about the same time, she expressed a desire to curb some of the provisions in her treaty with Italy.)

"(3. Greece had supported the landing of British troops at Salonika.

"(4. She had taken up military conversations with French authorities before France's collapse.

Soviet, Jugoslavia Friendship Treaty

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet press published prominently but without comment today its first accounts of the German invasion of Yugoslavia, with which Russia signed a friendship and non-aggression pact on Saturday, and against Greece.

Pravda, Communist Party organ, devoted four columns at the top of its foreign news page to Tass news agency dispatches from Berlin, Rome and Athens on the start of hostilities.

The Soviet-Jugoslav accord was cited in Moscow newspapers yesterday as "in the interests of all people who aim to avoid expansion of the war."

WITNESSED BY STALIN

The pact, signed Saturday by Premier Molotov and the Yugoslav minister, Milan Gavrilovic, in the presence of Josef Stalin, provides for mutual respect for territorial integrity and in the case of an attack on either by a third power the other promises continued friendly relations with the victim.

Tass said the pact firmly adhered to the "Stalinist principle" of peace and quoted Pravda as explaining that principle in these words:

"We stand for peace and the strengthening of business relations with all countries. That is our position; and we shall adhere to it as long as these countries maintain like relations with the Soviet Union and as long as they make no attempt to trespass on the interests of our country."

(The pact followed by less than two weeks a Russian-Turkish "benevolent neutrality" understanding which was reported to provide for Russian "material help" should Turkey be attacked.)

SIGNIFICANT

The official newspaper Izvestia editorially termed the Soviet-Jugoslav agreement "of great significance," because "this agreement is between the powerful Soviet Union, which unfailingly is carrying on its policy of peace, and Yugoslavia, to which security and peace at the present is its main cause."

Jugoslav efforts to secure peace "could not help but arouse the sympathy of the Soviet Union," Izvestia added.

BOMBED—Although Belgrade had been declared by the Yugoslavian government an open, undefended town, it was one of the first places attacked by German fliers, being bombed three times yesterday. This picture shows the Royal Arsenal.

Duce's Empire Melts

British Flag Flies Over Addis Ababa

CAIRO (AP)—Mussolini's East African Empire appeared today to be rapidly melting away as British authorities announced their troops in a lightning drive had entered Addis Ababa, the Ethiopian capital.

Five years ago from tribesmen armed with muskets, spears and clubs.

It was believed here British forces moved into the capital of ex-Emperor Haile Selassie with out resistance, indicating perhaps 70,000 Italian soldiers had scattered into the mountains and desert to attempt guerrilla warfare or to make a stand somewhere between Addis Ababa and Adowa to the north.

From North Africa, on the other hand, came reports a great battle apparently was shaping up east of Bengazi in Libya, as British forces halted German-Italian mechanized troops east of the Libyan port evacuated by British troops last week. The British command said "the concentration of our troops is proceeding smoothly."

In East African operations British authorities reported these developments:

The road to Massawa, the Red

Sea port in Eritrea, from fallen Asmara has been cleared and Free French patrols are within eight miles of the city.

Empire troops continued a march south from Eritrea toward Dessie and Gondar, in Ethiopia.

LONG MARCH

The force which entered Addis Ababa was made up largely of South African troops, part of the column which fought its way through Italian Somaliland, crossed the Ogaden desert, seized Dire Dawa on the Addis Ababa-Jibuti railway and by reaching the capital completed a 1,100-mile march in seven weeks.

Ethiopian patriots were reported in unconfirmed dispatches to have entered Derba Markos, 120 miles northwest of Addis Ababa, with Haile Selassie as their leader.

The whereabouts of Duke of Aosta, Italian viceroy of Ethiopia, was not known.

British authorities said he may be with any of a number of isolated Italian garrisons holding out in the country. The strongest of these was said to be at Gondar, north of Lake Tana, to which Gen. Martini led his forces from the Sudan frontier three months ago.

Answer to German Untruths

Nazis' Reasons for Attack Do Not Satisfy Turkey

ANKARA (AP)—Turkey officially displayed a calm front today as German troops stormed into neighboring Greece, but the Ankara radio announcer declared Germany's given reasons for the attack "do not satisfy anyone."

"The accusation that England brought war to the Balkans is untrue," the announcer said. "If British troops have arrived in Greece recently it is because the Germans already had occupied Bulgaria. In these circumstances it is apparent who brought war to the Balkans."

No reference was made to Turkey's position and observers believed she intended no immediate move.

The radio announcer said German attacks were aimed at Yugoslavia's "waist," the important rail junction city of Nish in the Vardar valley, in the hope of cutting Yugoslavia in two.

"However the Jugoslavs have made their main preparations in that area and bloody fighting can be expected there," the broadcast said.

Attention also was called to the Russian-Jugoslav friendship declaration "as worthy of notice because it demonstrates Russia's interest in Jugoslav independence."

Encouraging News

U.S. Welcomes New Pact Of Russia, Jugoslavia

WASHINGTON (AP)—The friendship and nonaggression pact which Russia and Yugoslavia signed just before Germany's invasion of the Balkan nation was termed encouraging today by Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

He told his press conference at the same time that United States envoys in the Balkans still were cut off from communication with the State Department.

The Secretary said the Russian-Jugoslav agreement made clear that an increasing number of nations were becoming acutely aware of the world nature of what he called a movement of conquest of people by force.

He declined to interpret the act except to say that it apparently spoke for itself.

His assertion was the second favorable comment toward Russia by a high state department official in recent weeks.

On March 25, Sumner Welles, then Acting Secretary of State, formally applauded Soviet Russia in joining Turkey in a statement of "comprehensive neutrality" in the event that Turkey entered the war.

Mr. Hull today also termed as important a statement by Marshal Petain, Chief of the French State, that France's honor required that she take no action against a former ally.

SPEEDING SUPPLIES

The United States today rushed shipments of war supplies for Yugoslavia and Greece.

Indications were that these munitions would be started across the Atlantic, probably in Jugoslav vessels now in American ports, either today or by mid-week at the latest. The administration is understood to have been preparing for several days against the hour when Germany would launch her Balkan attack.

Included in the shipments may be the 75-millimetre guns which President Roosevelt said last week would be sent to Greece, as well as machine guns, mortars, ammunition, bombs and other supplies drawn from the stores of the U.S. army.

Hitler's War Order

Calls Jugoslav Leaders Ruffians

NEW YORK (AP)—The text of Hitler's order of the day, sending his troops into an attack on Yugoslavia and Greece, was read over the Berlin radio by Propaganda Minister Goebbels and transcribed by the National Broadcasting Corporation. It said in part:

Soldiers of the southeast front:

Since early this morning, the German people are at war with the Belgrade government of intrigue. We shall only lay down arms when this band of ruffians has been definitely and most emphatically eliminated, and the last British has left this part of the European continent, and these misled people realize that they must thank Britain for this situation. They must thank England, the greatest warmonger of all time.

The German people can enter into this new struggle with the inner satisfaction that its leaders have done everything to bring about a peaceful settlement.

HE PRAYS NOW

We pray to God that He may lead our soldiers on the path and bless them as hitherto. . . .

You will now take the interests of the German Reich under your protection as your comrades did a year ago in Norway and on the west front. You will do just as well on the southeast front. . . .

You will be humane only in those places where the enemy is humane toward you. Where the enemy confronts you with utter brutality you will beat him back with the same weapon.

The fight on Greek soil is not a battle against the Greek people but against that arch-enemy, England, which is again trying to extend the war far into the southeast Balkans, the same as he tried far in the north last year. For this reason, on this very spot in the Balkans, we shall fight shoulder to shoulder with our ally until the last Briton has found his Dunkerque in Greece.

If any Greeks support this British course, then those Greeks will fall at the same time as the British.

Stupendous Fight Coming, Says King

OTTAWA (CP)—German attacks on Greece and Yugoslavia "mark the launching in deadly earnest of the 1941 campaign," Prime Minister Mackenzie King told the Commons this afternoon.

The world was again witnessing the determination of Nazi powers to ride roughshod over all who refuse to yield to their demands and who stand in the way of Nazi domination, Mr. King said.

"Hitler now is seeking to obtain by violence what he was unable to obtain by subtle means."

The unexpected resistance of Yugoslavia had been a surprise to Hitler, said Mr. King. Determination of the Jugoslavs to fight, and if need be to die, "does the highest honor to their great traditions."

Mr. King said that by the Jugoslav decision to resist, Nazi diplomacy had suffered a signal defeat.

The Germans had been compelled to fight on two fronts.

Greece's decision to resist the Germans involved a tremendous task but the whole nation had risen to it with indomitable courage.

"We must be prepared to witness a stupendous conflict," said Mr. King.

Italians Confine Moves to Albania

ROME (AP)—Stefani, Italian news and propaganda agency, claimed today Italian forces in Albania had balked an attempt by the Greek army to make contact with Yugoslav forces in two days of fighting, "virtually wiping out an entire Greek division of three regiments."

(The Greek High Command reported only patrol and artillery activity in Albania.)

The alleged Greek attack in the zone of the Fascist 9th Army in Albania has been halted by Italian infantry, the agency said. It was here, the agency asserted the Yugoslav army had hoped to make contact with the Greeks.

The agency claimed several Croats deserted from the Yugoslav army and entered Italian lines.

The high command claimed the naval bases of Spilato (Spalato) and Cattaro, an arsenal at Theodor near Cattaro, and an air base at Mostar were bombed yesterday in the opening of Italian hostilities against Yugoslavia.

SAY SHIPS SUNK

The announcement claimed two ships were sunk at Spalato and one at Cattaro harbor. Two destroyers were reported hit, one in Cattaro harbor, the other at Theodor.

Meanwhile, the war bulletin said, an "enemy air force" bombed Scutari in Albania.

It was announced the Italian blows were to "avenge Jugoslavia's desertion of the Axis."

The communique said that Italy "had decided to act with her military and naval air forces."

Communications, suspended here yesterday as a precautionary measure, were restored early today after a lapse of 24 hours.

CONCENTRATE ON ALBANIA

Military circles in Rome expressed belief Italy's co-operation with Germany on land in the Balkans would consist mainly of attempting to hold or make gains on the Albanian front.

Jugoslav circles, on the other hand, declared their country's strategy undoubtedly would be to make the position of Italy's forces in Albania as difficult as possible, and to fight a defensive action against German thrusts from Bulgaria, Rumania, Hungary and old Austria.

These Jugoslavs said their army probably would make a last ditch stand in the Serbian mountains to the south if German mechanized troops proved too strong in the plains of Croatia and north of Belgrade.

STAFF TO GO HOME

The staff of the Yugoslav legation was expected to leave in the next few days. Most of the Italian diplomatic personnel in Yugoslavia was evacuated before hostilities began.

The Yugoslav minister to the Holy See probably will take refuge in Vatican City, as have the envoys of France, Britain, Poland and Belgium.

NO COMMENT ON RUSSIA

Signing of the Russian-Jugoslav friendship treaty aroused interest in Rome political circles, but Fascist sources refrained from comment.

Some foreigners, however, interpreted the pact, coming as it did after Russia's cold reception of the German occupation of Bulgaria, as evidence of a new phase in Soviet relations with the Axis powers.

KING PETER II

LONDON (CP)—An official statement today said Great Britain welcomes Yugoslavia "as a resolute and powerful ally" and will fight on her side until justice is restored.

The Foreign Office news department issued this text of the message Britain sent to Yugoslavia:

"The savage outrage committed by Germany against Yugoslavia without the slightest provocation and the valiant resistance of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes range the British Empire upon the side of the southern Slavs. We welcome them as a resolute and powerful ally. We renew the comradeship which in the Great War carried us through tribulation to victory. We will conduct the war in common and we will make peace only when right has been vindicated and law and justice are again enthroned."

MESSAGES DELAYED

The Yugoslav legation said today it had no news from Belgrade and explained that its only contact with the Yugoslav capital was via cable over a roundabout route subject to long delay.

Any dispatches which the government had on the progress of fighting in the Balkans were kept secret. Authoritative quarters also declined to give any information on the whereabouts of Foreign Secretary Eden and Gen. Sir John Dill, chief of the Imperial General Staff.

Some sources said, however, that quick developments might "clear up the whole picture" in the Balkans within the next two days.

One source said the British government still is in communication with the British mission in Yugoslavia.

NO FRENCH MOVE AGAINST BRITISH

VICHY (AP)—Marshal Petain declared in a radio address today that French honor forbade any action against France's former Allies.

His speech called for French unity, but did not mention Gen. Charles de Gaulle, leader of Free French forces still fighting at Britain's side.

(De Gaulle, now in Cairo, has exhorted Frenchmen to help tip the balance of the war in the Mediterranean in Britain's favor. There had been indications the marshal would broadcast an answer.)

"Honor requires us to undertake nothing against our former Allies," Petain said. "But the integrity of the country requires that sources of our vital food and essential posts of our Empire should be safeguarded. It is against these necessities that disloyal propagandists act daily."

FRENCH TALK

Despite announcements by Fernand de Brinon, Vichy's "ambassador" in Paris, and Paris newspapers that Petain would attack Gen. de Gaulle, he complained only against "subtle insidious propaganda inspired by Frenchmen."

He complained also that dissidence "takes a more arrogant tone daily and the work of my government is attacked, defamed and slandered."

He praised Gen. Maxime Weygand, commander in north Africa, for faith to French unity, and Admiral Jean Darlan, vice-premier and foreign minister as well as naval commander, "who has all my confidence."

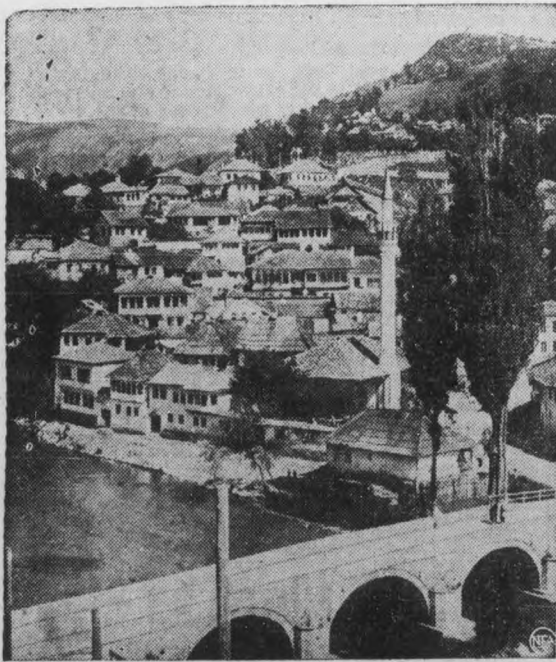

WAR ZONE

BERLIN (Delayed-AP)—Germany declared the eastern Mediterranean, including the Aegean, a war zone today and warned merchant shipping against entering those waters.

(This dispatch was filed at 12:40 p.m. Sunday, Berlin time — 2:40 a.m. P.S.T.—being about 22 hours in transit.)

U.S. Flier Hurt in B.C.

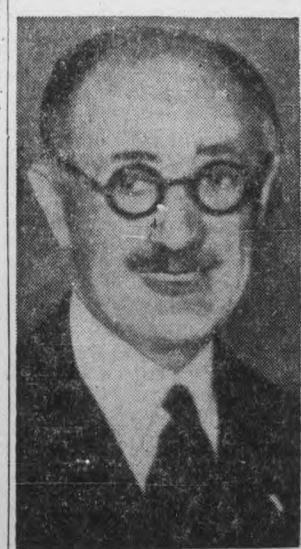

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Hospital attendants today described as "fair" the condition of James Bleak, Salt Lake City, member of U.S. army air corps, McChord Field, Wash., who was injured yesterday when the car in which he was riding collided with a freight train at nearby Newton, B.C. Two companions escaped with minor injuries.

STARTED HERE BEFORE—The last war started at the left end of this bridge in Sarajevo. Now it is again involved in conflict.

IN ACTION NOW—Anti-aircraft searchlights attached to Jugoslav army.

DEATH PROTEST—Count Paul Teleki, Hungary's pro-British Premier, killed himself in Budapest. Reports persist suicide was a protest against German demands to take over Hungary as a base for operations against Yugoslavia.

BETTER RACES than ever. That is the word from Jack Taylor, Langford auto racing czar, in announcing plans for another season of campaigning for the gas-buggies at the local edition of the Indianapolis Speedway. Hundreds of racing devotees will welcome the news as the races have proven popular the last three or four years. First meet of the season is set for the night of May 3.

"This year we are going to race under the rules and regulations of the Washington Automobile Association with the result Victorians are going to see many more American cars and drivers in action," Taylor said. "This is the governing organization in the Pacific Northwest and lends much more kudos to the Victoria races. It will be much easier for us to obtain the services of top-notch American speedsters."

According to Taylor he will present drivers and cars from Seattle, New Mexico, Dallas, Des Moines, Portland and California points. "Every meet will have eight or 10 American cars and pilots on hand to provide the fans with the finest auto racing ever presented on a British Columbia track," the jovial promoter remarked. For the opening show such well-known U.S. drivers as Lou McMurty, Seth Renning, Claude Walling, Ernie Spaulding, Wes Moore, Stocky Stockwell (he's from Texas), and Tommy Legge will be here.

Looking over the local car prospects for the season we find Promoter Taylor, Vic Weston and Camie Cameron with hottest looking gas wagons. These three owners have done a lot of work on their cars during the winter and are confident the machines will stand up against the toughest kind of competition. Local drivers available for the races will include Buddy Green, Jerry Vantreight, Jack Spaulding, Joe Moore and Sid Holeridge. Three well-known Victoria pilots will be missing this year. Jack Fumento and Diggar Caldwell are in eastern Canada with an army unit while Bert Sutton is confined to hospital.

Drivers will have a fine resurfaced track to open the races. Taylor informed us the racing strip is being gone over thoroughly and after all the pot holes are filled the entire track will be re-coated. It is also planned to put the infield into first-class shape by leveling it off and building a road through the centre to allow the drivers to turn off the track on the backstretch at the finish of a race and return to the pits. Formerly the cars went into the pit after coming out of the turn into the finish line, with the result there was usually quite a bit of jamming.

From what we could make out it is the intention of Taylor, assisted by the British Columbia Automotive Sports Association, to put on race meets comparable to any offered on the Pacific coast. The local officials are looking for a big year with the prospects of showing some of the finest racing cars on the coast. It is hoped to stage a meet every two weeks and if former cards are any indication the Langford Speedway will be a popular spot for Victorians on race night.

Army Rugby

Victoria Champs

Victoria's army ruggers are the champion of Military District No. 11. Saturday afternoon they routed representatives of the Vancouver area 22 to 11 with His Excellency the Governor-General of Canada an interested spectator. Victoria won on the strength of a surprising 17 to 0 margin built up in the opening half. It was the second match of a home-and-home series, Vancouver winning the opener at home 6 to 5. Victoria won the competition on total points 27 to 17.

After following the play with much interest, His Excellency presented the Army and Navy Veterans trophy to Lieut. Campbell Forbes, captain of the Victoria team, and also talked with 2nd Lieut. "Rusty" Goepel, skipper of the Vancouver side.

The match, one of the most colorful staged here in years, attracted a huge turnout of soldiers who inspired the teams with their cheering. Two bands were in attendance and played the clubs onto the field.

Play, which took place on a greasy field, was rugged. There was no love lost between the players, and several times it appeared as if hot tempers might flare, but no outbreaks were seen.

Play, which took place on a greasy field, was rugged. There was no love lost between the players, and several times it appeared as if hot tempers might flare, but no outbreaks were seen.

LOCALS PLAY WELL

The Victoria fifteen turned in a grand match from the fullback out to the forwards. In the first half, especially, the three-quarter functioned smoothly, and the spectators were treated to thrilling runs with L. Cpl. Hump Payne, Pte. Sid Gaunt, S-Sgt. Dave Jenkins and Cpl. Tom Carney handling the slippery ball in great fashion. The Victoria forwards were much better on the loose ball, their footwork giving the visitors plenty of trouble.

In the scrums, the locals with a decided weight advantage, held the upper hand. The Vancouver team suffered in the first half from weak kicking, although Victoria did have the advantage of a strong wind. Early in the second half Vancouver broke into the score column for the first time and dominated play for fully 15 minutes, but the Victoria players put on the pressure again to score another try and end the mainland threat.

Following a fine movement by the Victoria forwards, led by Forbes, the local team scored its opening try early in the match. Pte. Frank Collier, going over, Forbes missed the conversion. Still forcing the mainlanders, Victoria moved ahead 6 to 0 on another score by Gaunt, following a smart movement by the three. Forbes again was wide with the kick.

Taking advantage of their scoring chances, Payne, hard-driving three-quarter, crashed over for the third try with Gnr. Bill Gornall kicking the convert to make the score 11 to 0. With Gnr. Harry Barber moving up to the three-quarter line to start a fast movement, Gornall was given a pass to go through for another try. Just before half-time Jenkins was sent over the line to make the count 17 to 0 at the interval.

SECOND HALF

On the resumption of play the Vancouver team showed plenty of fight. They swept the ball into Victoria's 25-yard area, and after a beautiful run, during which time he weaved his way past half the Victoria team, Lieut. Basil Robinson scored for the mainlanders. Minutes later he repeated the trick. Both kicks were wide. Cadet Muck Buck of the visitors suffered a badly cut eye, but returned to play after receiving medical attention. Vancouver scored a third try with Cadet Bob Field putting the ball down. Robinson kicked the extra points to leave the visitors only six points down, 17 to 11.

At this point the Victoria team returned to the attack and 2nd Lieut. Bruce Forbes smashed through for a try. Barber sent a beautiful kick through the posts and the scoring was ended for the afternoon.

Match was opened with Major-General R. O. Alexander, D.S.O., G.O.C., Pacific Command, kicking off.

WINDSOR ALUMNI BEATEN

Wood Finally Wins

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—The story which Craig Wood began with a four-under-par 66 in the first round of the Augusta Masters' golf tournament four days ago was brought to its happy ending yesterday—but not until the hero had gone through the dime novel's customary perils.

The 39-year-old veteran from Mamaroneck, N.Y., won the eighth annual masters with a 72-hole score of 280, eight under par, and won it by three shots.

He went into the final round with a three-stroke margin on Sammy Byrd and five shots on Byron Nelson, and when Nelson pulled even with him through the 44th hole, Wood had it in him to pour on a two-under-par finish that made the $1,500 first prize safe.

That spurt gave Wood a last-

West Defeated In Cup Soccer

Victoria West soccer team was knocked out of the Jackson Cup series yesterday when Esquimalt defeated them 2 to 0 in a close-fought match.

Saturday Victoria United swamped Navy 6 to 1 in the same series.

Esquimalt will now play Saanich Thistles and the winner of the game will meet United in the final.

Manager Tommy Restell of Victoria West said today the team had disbanded until next season. "We're not entering any more cup competitions," Restell said. "Most of our boys play some other game during the summer and want a few weeks rest between seasons."

Esquimalt dominated play in the first half of the game yesterday but West reversed things in the second session. They hadn't the scoring punch though.

The first goal arrived 20 minutes after the start of the game when Jack Edwards headed in a cross from Gordie Bell. Bell and Scotty Stewart were going great guns and gave goalie Norm Stewardson plenty of tense moments.

SECOND GOAL

Bell scored Esquimalt's second goal 15 minutes after the change over. Barney Barnswell kicked the ball up field, fullback Bobbie Bell missed heading the ball out and brother Gordie cut behind him gaining possession. Stewardson came out to stop Bell but the right winger flipped it past the goalkeeper.

West came back strong and kept the ball in Esquimalt territory for most of the remaining time. Stofor and Mills played great defensive ball for Esquimalt and West failed to score.

UNITED TRIUMPH

Victoria United and Navy wound up the first half of their game tied 1 to 1 but in the second half the Coast League team went on a scoring spree firing home five goals.

Horne scored the sailors' lone goal. United scorers were Hope, two; Cosier, two; Morgan and Dallimore.

VARSITY CAGERS DEFEAT SAVIDGES

VANCOUVER (CP)—University of British Columbia Thunderbirds, 1941 provincial basketball champions, took a 37 to 34 decision from Seattle Savidges, quarterfinalists in the United States national amateur championships, in an exhibition game here Saturday night.

Jim Scott of Thunderbirds was high scorer with 10 points. Pat Dorsey topped the Seattle marksmen with eight.

Savidges took a 10 to 8 lead in the first quarter but dropped behind 23 to 20 at the half. Varsity still held a three-point advantage at the end of the third quarter with the score 29 to 26, and finished the game with the same margin.

Wins Soccer Final

Playing in the lower island final of second division juvenile soccer St. Louis College defeated Art's Shamrocks 2 to 1 yesterday.

All the scoring took place in the second half with Jim Cairnie and Reg Clarkson scoring for the winners.

The collegians will now meet the up-island champions in the island playoffs.

Gains Early Margin to Beat Wings

BOSTON (CP)—Detroit Red Wings, apparently rusted by a week's layoff, came to life too late last night, thereby permitting Boston Bruins to open the National Hockey League's final playoff series for the Stanley Cup with a 3 to 2 victory before a 16,000 crowd at the Boston Garden.

The Bruins scored in each period against their listless rivals, who were limited to the amazingly low total of eight shots on goal during the first 40 minutes of one-sided action.

Eddie Wiseman bagged the Bruins' initial tally. Milt Schmidt registered the second goal and Pat McReavy chalked up the third. Shortly after the latter scored, the Red Wings settled down to business.

Cornie Brown raced after a long shot fired against the Boston backboards and passed out to Carl Liscombe, the first Red Wing to beat goalie Frankie Brimsek during the 11th minute of the third period play. After five minutes, Brown performed the same trick and put his pass-out directly on the stick of Syd Howe and that veteran of the Wings' previous Stanley Cup campaigns beat Brimsek with ease from six feet out.

WINGS CUT LOOSE

When they found themselves only a goal down the Red Wings really cut loose for the first time during the game. They mobbed the Boston zone but the Bruins covered every rival and held firm even when a sixth forward sprang into action during the final minute when Mowers quit his cage.

With the competition so light for so long, the Bruins rested up little Bobby Bauer, still nursing foot and shoulder injuries suffered during the bruising seven-game series with Toronto Maple Leafs. Bill Cowley, the league's high scorer, was also out of action, along with captain Ebbe Goodfellow, Detroit's outstanding defenceman.

The Bruins and Wings, meeting for the first time in playoff action, will resume their four-out-of-seven games tomorrow night. The scene of operations will be shifted to Detroit for the third and fourth contests.

SUMMARY

First period—1, Boston, Wiseman (Conacher, Smith) 13.26. No penalties.

Second period—2, Boston, Schmidt (Dumart, Crawford) 14.15. Penalties: Dumart, Stewart.

Third period—3, Boston, McReavy (Schmidt, Crawford) 9.16; 4, Detroit, Liscombe (Jennings, Brown) 10.55; 5, Detroit, Howe (Brown) 10.55. No penalties.

Weser Cargo Order Soon

Final court action on the former German motorship Weser, captured last October off Manzanillo, Mexico, and brought to Victoria as a prize of war, is expected to be completed here this week.

The ship, renamed the Vancouver Island, is now in service in the Canadian merchant marine.

On Wednesday morning Chief Justice M. A. Macdonald, sitting as a judge in prize court, will hear an application from J. B. Clearhue, K.C., for condemnation of the cargo.

The cargo could not be condemned at the time such action was taken on the ship itself, since ownership of the goods and materials was not fixed. An adjournment for six months from the date of capture was required to permit anyone with a claim to the cargo to make an appearance on the matter.

No appearance is expected Wednesday morning.

Special meeting of the Lake Hill Community Centre members will be held in the hall on Tuesday at 8 for the purpose of electing officers.

Choir of the Emmanuel Baptist Church under the leadership of Harold C. Parfitt will render Maundy's Easter Cantata, "From Olivet to Calvary" on the evening of Good Friday, in the church auditorium commencing at 8. The choir will be supported by Mrs. A. H. Thomas at the organ and a string ensemble. The soprano solo will be taken by Mrs. B. C. Gillie and Mrs. Norris Harwood, and the tenor and baritone arias will be sung by Frank Iwings, tenor, and Gilbert Margison, baritone.

War Services Drive

Collect $65,612; Now Need $9,388

Reaching the $75,000 objective of the Greater Victoria campaign for the Canadian War Services Fund was expected by the middle of this week by S. K. Campbell, chairman of the drive, in a statement today.

This morning the campaign was $9,388 short of its objective. "If we do not reach our mark by Wednesday or Thursday we will continue canvassing," Mr. Campbell said. "We must get the money."

The residential division of canvassers under Mrs. J. W. Benning passed its quota of $15,500 at the close of canvassing Saturday. The division has turned in $15,842.33. Subscriptions Saturday were $12,475, which raised the total to $65,612.34.

The central division turned in $250 Saturday, the business division $181.50, the industrial-commercial $217.25, and the services division $97.

SAANICH RECORD

Saanich Peninsula, it was reported by John Tindall, chairman of the district's committee, has contributed over $3,000. The objective for the area was $1,000.

The area was divided into five sections for canvassing. Chairmen of each district were: Mrs. N. McIntosh, Royal Oak; W. Douglas, South Saanich; Maurice Atkins, Brentwood; J. C. Anderson, North Saanich including Sidney, Deep Cove and Patricia Bay, and Ernest Nicks, James Island. Further reports were received today from island districts. Port Alton notified headquarters the town would contribute $2,700 to the fund, and Sooke district $300. Qualicum, with an objective of $500, has collected $200 and expects to reach the $1,000 mark.

The choir of St. Luke's Church, Cedar Hill, augmented by members of city choirs, will render the sacred cantata, "Olivet to Calvary," this evening at 8 at the church. Rev. Frederic Pike will officiate. The cantata will be conducted by Eric V. Edwards and will be accompanied at the organ by Philip Hughes. The soloists will be Mrs. Olive Batchelor, L. Harmsworth, G. Oakman and A. Trevett.

The sale was held under the auspices of the Victoria Auxiliary to the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, Mrs. T. M. Knox having charge of the stall.

Two large 4 x 5 ft. plate glass windows on the Douglas Street side of the Hudson's Bay Company were broken over the week-end by someone who threw large pieces of cinders at them. The Island Freight Service, just below the Hudson's Bay Company on Douglas Street, reported to police two windows were broken in the office.

The handsome sum of $967.03 was raised by Saturday's tax day in aid of the Royal Jubilee Hospital, as compared to $844 raised last year. The result was most gratifying, especially in view of the rain, and Mrs. C. C. Raven, the general convenor, and her committee is most appreciative of the generosity of the public and grateful to the nurses and others who assisted in the collection.

An inquest on Doreen May Boyes, 17, of Cobble Hill, will be held by Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, in Haywards B.C. Funeral Chapel at 10.30 tomorrow morning. THE CHRYSLER IS DIFFERENT

1941 Models Offer Something Unique in Motoring Performance

The new 1941 Chrysler, now on display in the showrooms of the Begg Motor Co. Ltd., features something that is radically new. The motoring public takes for granted the acknowledged leadership of Chrysler, but even the most ardent admirer of the famous line was unprepared for the tremendous development of this year's models. One of the outstanding features is the Fluid Drive, with nothing exactly like it offered anywhere. Now there is no need to shift gears in normal driving. The tremendous power of the Spitfire engine flows to the rear wheels through a column of oil instead of through rigid metal connections. There is positively no jerking, grabbing or noise.

The Begg Motor Co. Ltd., cordially invites you to visit their showrooms and to see and compare the new Chrysler. Only by actual test is it possible to realize the wonders of the Vacuum transmission and the dozens of great features that only Chrysler can give you.

Governor-General Asks Sacrifices

'Destroy Complacency' His Excellency Warns

His Excellency the Governor-General today called on Canadians for unheard of sacrifice, incredibly hard work, dauntless courage, inviolable good humor and unending faith—for only by such attributes would lasting victory be gained.

He was speaking to the Men's Canadian Club luncheon at the Empress Hotel, presided over by Robert A. W. Wootton, president, who introduced His Excellency. "All of us have two enemies—complacency and Nazism," His Excellency said. "If we do not rise up in our wrath and destroy the former, our chances against the latter are indeed slender," he said.

"Let us, therefore, gird on the armor of war—let us prepare ourselves with fanatical zeal for any sacrifice that may be required of us. Let us forge a weapon of unbelievable power to strike the sword from the hands of our enemies."

"We shall never give in. We shall never swerve from the steep and narrow path that lies before us. We shall never be driven from the lofty pinnacle of our determination. We shall hang on until we turn the tide against the foe and march forward with crushing strength to the liberation of the world from the deadly threat of Nazism."

ALL THE NEWS

His Excellency said how pleased he was with the way news of the war had been given the public. Unlike the last war, he said, all news, good, bad and indifferent was readily given to the public "and you may be certain nothing is suppressed unless it would advantage to the enemy."

"Every day I receive a number of telegrams and documents about the war," His Excellency said. "They are marked secret, and elaborate precautions are taken to see that their secrecy is maintained. And yet I find that 99 per cent of the facts which they contain have already been published in the press several days earlier. This seems to me a good sign."

"Some people imagine the press is a vast organization, working hand in hand with various government departments to give to the public only so much as it should know," he said. "But I can assure you that if I were given the choice between receiving all the documents, telegrams and dispatches of the government, secret and otherwise, and my daily paper, I would unquestionably choose the latter."

Speaking of the spread of war His Excellency said: "The destiny of every country in the world depends on its outcome. That seems to me to be a matter of profound significance, both for those who, like ourselves, are in the fire, but still on the outskirts and also for those like our friends in the United States, who are not directly engaged in fighting the flames, but are doing a grand job in bringing up the fighting equipment."

The most potent of the new weapons of war, His Excellency said, was the weapon of fear. Countries and armies had been terrorized into submission with a shot having been fired. The threat of overwhelming violence had been sufficient. The arrogant display of terrifying forces had paralyzed the will to resist.

PROPAGANDA

"There are many weapons in the arsenal of fear," His Excellency said. "There is the weapon of propaganda which our enemies have brought to a high level of perfection by the ingenious use of the element of deliberate falsehood—if we face the facts fairly and squarely then we are bound to come to the conclusion that only by unheard of sacrifice, incredibly hard work, dauntless courage, inviolable good humor and unending faith we gain a victory for which civilization for centuries to come will be indebted to us."

Addressing himself to those who fought in the 1914-18 war, His Excellency said "if our endeavors have been in vain, we must not suffer from any sense of frustration, but rather must we first steel our determination to rid the world of the deadening grip which now threatens to hold us in remorseless slavery, and with the same determination attack the post war problems from a saner and wiser angle, armed with sincerity and good will."

His Excellency said he was speaking to everyone in Canada, rich and poor, when he said: "You, wherever you might be, are now in great danger. Between you and the enemy is a thin strip—the narrow strip of the English Channel—that is the front line of freedom today—if that front line should fail it would be our turn next, a few short weeks later."

NUMBERS COUNT

The war was one in which more was required than courage and the great qualities of human endurance, His Excellency said.

"In his war numbers, overwhelming numbers will count—numbers of guns and ships and airplanes and tanks, and the dollars with which to buy them. The time has now come when nothing but a gigantic effort will save you and your children."

"You are being asked by the government to make sacrifices, but these are only a beginning, and I would remind you that the greatness of your sacrifice should be measured, not so much by what you give up but by the extent of the security you will have attained."

"If any of you still have in your possession that which you count luxury and comforts, then your conscience will tell you whether you could not do more in this hour of peril."

Introducing His Excellency, Mr. Wootton said the primary concern of Canadian clubs across Canada was to maintain the Canadian nation within the Empire, under Crown, which he characterized as "invisible and invincible."

Of Their Majesties, he said, "We have seen our beloved King and Queen as they hallowed the soil of Canada and we have seen them since, as man and wife, with their children, standing in the midst of their ruined home, sturdy and undismayed."

John Cochrane extended the club's thanks to His Excellency. He said a tour across the country was indeed wise—as a thorough understanding of the Canadian people and knowledge of the country was necessary if a Governor-General's term of office was to be a success.

Guests at the head table included: Hon. John Hart, acting Premier; Chief Justice M. A. Macdonald, Hon. C. S. Leary, Hon. W. J. Asseltine, Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Commodore W. J. R. Beech, R.C.N.; Bishop H. E. Sexton, Rev. Dr. W. J. Sippell, Rev. W. G. Wilson, Col. G. Hunter-Ogilvie, Sir Richard Lake, W. B. Lambert, Kenneth Ferguson, Commander E. C. Daylight Saving Pioneer Never Saw It In Force

Each year, in the spring, daylight saving comes to many parts of Europe and North America. In other words, the clock is pushed ahead an hour.

The man who is honored for bringing about daylight saving never lived where it was in force. He was an Englishman, William Willett.

William Willett, pioneer of daylight saving

Willett lived in the part of England called Kent. In 1907 he began to think of what would happen if clock time could be changed in the summer. It seemed to him that if the clock were pushed ahead, it would mean more daylight time for workmen after their tasks were over at factories.

Soon Willett began to write letters about his idea, and he also put out a pamphlet called "The Waste of Daylight." He said that the clock should be moved forward 80 minutes in spring and should be kept that way through the summer. Many persons laughed about the idea. To think of changing the clock!

Yet there were some who thought it might be well to try the plan. A bill was put before the House of Commons in 1908, but it did not pass.

Perhaps there never would have been daylight saving (or "summer time," as it usually is called in England) if it had not been for the World War. During that war, there was need to save fuel. It was plain that if people went to bed at an earlier hour, homes would not need to have so much electric or gas light.

Great Britain put the plan through in 1916, one year after Willett died. The change in time was of an hour, not the 80 minutes Willett had suggested.

In Canada daylight saving is a matter of local regulation. Railways run on Standard Time. Many cities and towns adopt daylight saving time for the summer months, especially in the east. In some parts of Ontario and Quebec daylight saving has been in operation all this winter to conserve electricity for war factories. No doubt they will keep it on during the summer.

In the United States a national law was passed for daylight saving, and it went into effect on the last Sunday in March, 1918. The next year, after much protest from farmers and others, the American Congress put an end to the plan.

Daylight saving is more in favor with city folk than with farmers. Farmers say they do not want to get up an hour earlier (by sun time) to milk the cows.

"Summer time" has lasted in Great Britain since the World War, and also has been in force in various countries on the continent of Europe. Last autumn the British made a law to keep summer time right through the winter! That was done partly to get people away from stores before darkness, when the danger of German bombing was greater.

HOROSCOPE

Benefic aspects dominate after the early hours today. In the morning adverse influences rule women, but the evening brings happiness to many. There is a promising sign for developing what has been already planned. Under this configuration girls may be difficult to guide, for the stars do not incline them toward domestic tasks. In the evening, which is lucky for social entertainments, love affairs will flourish. Warning is given that hearts rule heads at this time when speedy courtships and hasty marriages will be numerous. This is a day of financial uncertainty to many heads of families, but the worst will not happen to those who speculate on a tricky market. On the date that spurred Greece to heroic defence the sun was square to Pluto, which was in conjunction with Mussolini's natal sun. Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I know a girl who is sweet and pretty and attractive, but she has one fault that gets on my nerves so that I can't stand it. That is a phoney southern accent. She comes from the middle west. Her parents have all their r's, so do her brothers and sister. Why she should have eliminated all of hers and adopted a mongrel dialect, which is no more southern than it is Norwegian, is past finding out. Anyway, it makes her ridiculous, and I am wondering what can be done about it, for otherwise she is a nice girl.

Answer: The best way to break her of her silly affectation is to make fun of it. Laugh her out of it. Few girls can stand ridicule. If you can get two or three of your friends to join with you in mocking her false accent, you can probably make an instantaneous cure.

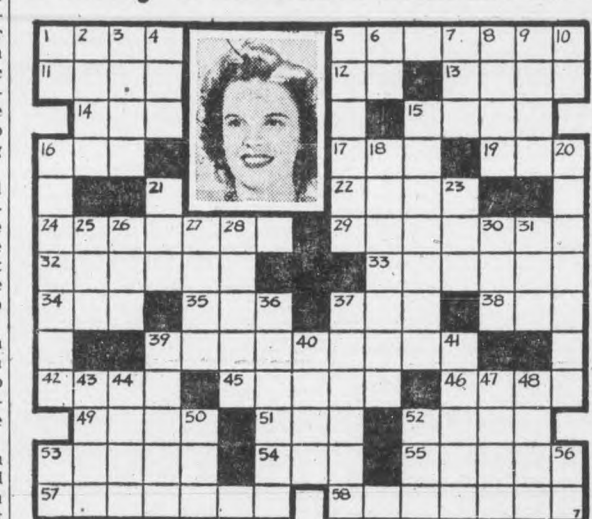

It is a common thing for silly youngsters to think they make themselves interesting and different by posing as something they are not. I have known girls who were strong as little ponies who always adopted a languid, die-away attitude in public.

I have known others who would mince away at a dinner in company and barely eat a mouthful, but who could clean up a dish of corned beef and cabbage at home.

I know plenty of innocent little girls who know nothing of the world whatever who pose as blasé sophisticates. And still others who do indiscreet things not because they want to but because they want to appear wicked and devil-may-care.

DOROTHY DIX.

Seattle Takes Double-header

Four shutout pitching jobs opened the 1941 Coast League baseball campaign with a bang, and when the three-game weekend baseball campaign was over only Pepper Martin's Sacramento club emerged unscathed.

Sacramento, making its bow at home under Martin, new manager brought in from the St. Louis Cardinals, blanked Hollywood in the Saturday opener 5 to 0, with a home run barrage, and wound up the brief series by beating the Stars twice yesterday, 4 to 3 in 12 innings and 1 to 0 in seven.

Tony Freitas, veteran left hander, gave up only three hits in blanking the Stars Saturday. Bill Thomas hurled the shutout in yesterday's nightcap, giving up but two hits. Catcher Jim Grilk drove in the winning runs in both Sunday games.

Seattle, last year's pennant winner, dropped a 1 to 0 decision to San Francisco at the Bay Park Saturday as the Seals scored on three hits in the 10th. Ed Stutz shutout the Rainiers with three hits. But yesterday Seattle came back to win both ends of the twin bill, 2 to 1 and 3 to 1, with late rallies.

Oakland opened its season with a 2 to 0 win over San Diego at the Padre Park on two runs in the 12th on second baseman Hugh Luby's double. Cotton Phippen pitched the shutout. Sunday the home towners took the double-header 7 to 3 and 4 to 0.

Portland beat Los Angeles 4 to 0 in the opener at Los Angeles on Ad Liska's mound job. Yesterday the Angels won a batting marathon in the first game, 15 to 14, and led the Ducks 5 to 4 in the sixth of the nightcap when darkness forced an end.

A mixed foursome competition will be held at the Uplands Golf Club on Good Friday. Competitors will select their own partners and opponents and arrange their own starting times.

Scouts Give Grand Howl

There were cheers and the Grand Howl for His Excellency the Governor-General when he visited between 700 and 800 Boy Scouts of southern Vancouver Island at Macdonald Park Saturday afternoon. Canada's Chief Scout presented medals of merit in scouting to Major H. B. Hunter, W. Bardsley (shown above with His Excellency) and C. Hensley and a letter of commendation for life-saving to Scout W. Young. Scouts presented His Excellency with a Totem pole, King's Scout Douglas Peck of Sidney doing the honors for all Scouts and Cubs in the Greater Victoria area. The Scouts and Cubs made a fine appearance and stood rigidly to attention as His Excellency walked through the ranks, accompanied by Major James Wise, district Scout Master for Victoria.

At 11 in the morning they attended divine service at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, accompanied by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. E. W. Hamber, their daughter, Hon. City Hall Briefs

City Sustains Gravel Policy

The city's adherence to its present policy of buying only washed sand and gravel was reaffirmed by the public works committee at its meeting in the City Hall today. H. E. Hunnings, representing the Mount Tolmie Sand and Gravel Co. Ltd., was present at the meeting at which that position was maintained. Members of the committee stated they did not wish to cast any reflection on his product.

At the same time the committee endorsed amendments to the city's garbage by-law, calling for changes in fees previously listed. The meeting was adjourned at noon and was scheduled to be resumed this afternoon.

The resignation of Ken Lawson, popular local golfer, from the city comptroller-treasurer's office will be submitted to the City Council tonight. Mr. Lawson will leave the city service to take a position at the Parliament Buildings.

The city's special wage committee will hold its first meeting under the chairmanship of Alderman Ed. Williams at 3.30 Wednesday afternoon.

Because residents of Jones Street prefer the name "The Rise" to "Jervis Bay Road," the interim committee will recommend to the council tonight that their preference be respected in renaming the street.

Under arrangements made by Alderman B. J. Gadsden, members of the City Council and their wives have been invited to tea at Goddon Head Camp. Following the tea at 4, they will inspect the site to which the city donated nursery stock.
